FBI Nabs Four In Army Truck Bombing Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents and New York City police have arrested three men and a woman after two of the men allegedly attempted to place time bombs aboard U.S. Army trucks in a midtown National Guard Armory.

The arrests Wednesday night came hours after a bomb exploded in the Criminal Courts building — the fourth major blast in the city in less than two days. One woman suffered minor injuries.

The FBI said the four arrested persons — two of them identified as being associated with radical publications — would be questioned about "additional bombings in the New York City area."

Early Tuesday bombs were set off in the RCA Building in Rockefeller Center, the General Motors Building on Fifth Avenue and the Chase Manhattan Bank Building in the downtown financial district.

No one was seriously hurt but those blasts caused heavy property damage. There have been a dozen other unsolved blasts in the city in recent months.

Arresting officers recovered four dynamite bombs allegedly set to go off at 4 a.m. today, the FBI said. Frederick M. Lussen, chief of detectives, said the bombs were "professionally made."

The bomb at Criminal Court was set off in a men's washroom on the fifth floor. The blast shattered windows, ruptured plumbing and knocked down two steel doors and terra cotta walls.

Showdown Set On Haynsworth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate settled into a showdown debate today to decide the months-long controversy over the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the Supreme Court.

At stake are the votes of more than a score of uncommitted senators who could swing the balance on confirmation of President Nixon's nomination. The debate is expected to extend into next week.

Filing of a Judiciary Committee majority report backing Haynsworth set the scene for today's opening of Senate floor arguments. The report said questions raised about the ethical standards of the South Carolina jurist have not been substantiated.

The committee majority also said the mere fact that a controversy has arisen—even though unsubstantiated—has no reason in itself for refusing confirmation. "Such a position is contrary both to traditional notions of fair play and to the lessons of history," the committee said. "To accede to such a view would be to place a nominee's fate... in the hands of his accusers."

Oil Speculators Busy Downstate

LANSING (AP) — Oil speculators started bidding today on oil rights to 83,000 acres of state-owned land in northern lower Michigan.

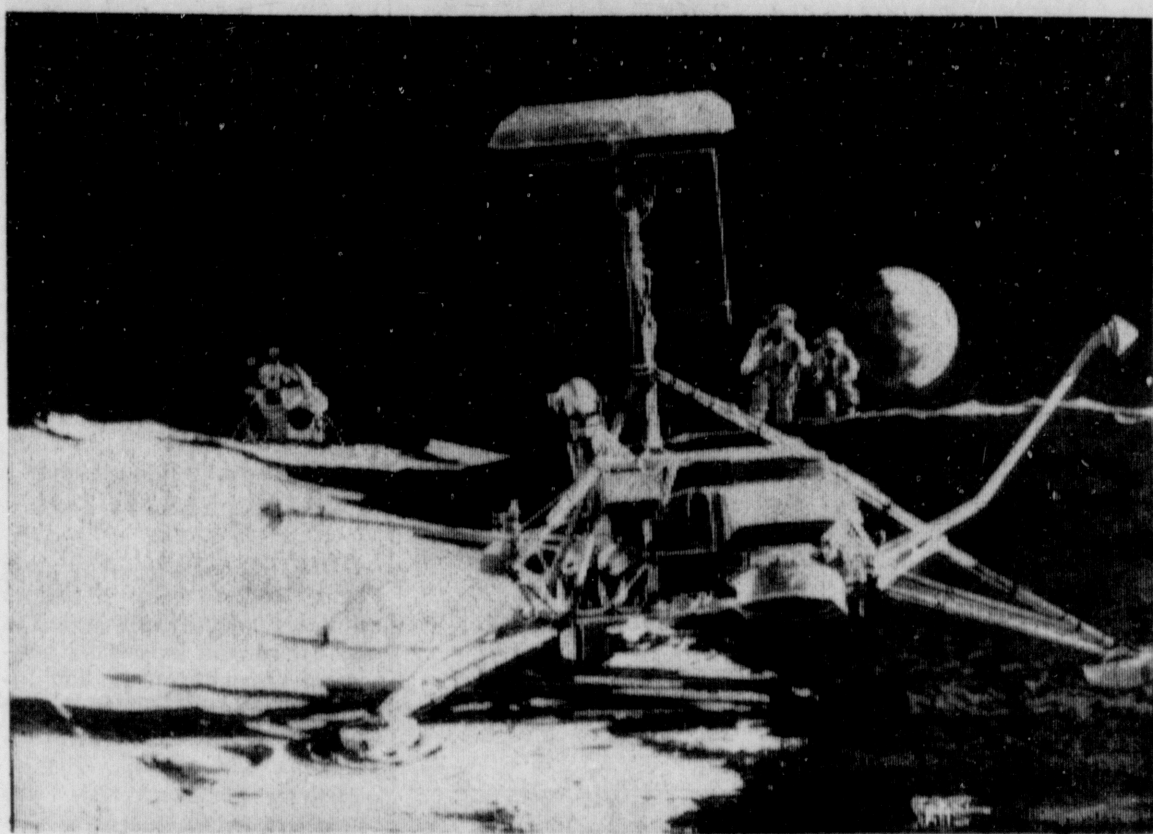

Officials in the Department of Natural Resources said interest in the auction zoomed after recent announcement of an oil strike in the Gaylord area.

Bidding was expected to continue until late today or possibly until Friday morning.

Apollo Problems Solved; 'Everything Go' For Trio

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 12, man's second excursion to the moon, was back on schedule for Friday's launch today after technicians swapped out a leaking fuel tank and began the laborious process of re-loading it.

"We look real good now," said Paul C. Donnelly, launch operations manager.

Launch At 11:22

The launching is set for 11:22 a.m. EST Friday.

Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr., and Alan L. Bean — the Navy commanders who are manning the flight—relaxed this morning by doing acrobatics in T38 jet trainers at nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

Their condition was good and so were forecasts for Friday's launch weather.

President and Mrs. Nixon and Vice President and Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew are scheduled to be among the 300,000 visitors expected for the launch.

Leak Discovered

The leak in the hydrogen tank was discovered Wednesday when crews had loaded it to 80 per cent of capacity. It was removed late at night and replaced with one taken from the Apollo 13 ship which was in a hangar being readied for launch next March.

The tank itself holds 28 pounds of hydrogen, kept in a liquid state by cooling to 423 degrees below zero. There are two such tanks for hydrogen and there and get a new tank in." The space center had experts flown in from the manufacturer's plant in Downey, Calif., to help with the transplant.

The second hydrogen fuel tank on board would have been enough for the mission, Donnelly said, "but we've always lifted off with two tanks in the event we had this type of problem in flight."

While Gordon and Bean remained in crew quarters Wednesday for more study of their flight plan, Conrad was in two for oxygen in a service compartment behind the main cabin.

Tank Replaced

"We're comfortable because we know our problem," Donnelly said. "The problem is the tank. We have to get it out of a mission director's meeting."

It was decided at the meeting to forego the only other launch opportunity this month—on Sunday—because the later start would move the moon-landing point 360 miles to the west.

Officials said they didn't feel Conrad and Bean should try to land on the alternate site because photographs from Apollo 11—the moon-landing flight in July—showed landmarks that were unknown before. The detailed training has been for the prime site.

A prime objective of Apollo 12 is to develop pinpoint landing techniques essential for the next moon landing, Apollo 13, in the rocky highlands.

Viet Cong Use Protest Plans As Term Lever

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam and the Viet Cong made it plain today they were counting on growing protests in the United States to speed the end of the Vietnam war on their terms.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told the North Vietnamese they were harboring "false expectations." He said "The great majority of the American people support President Nixon as he seeks a just peace."

This exchange took place at the 42nd weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks while opponents of the war in the United States marshaled their forces for a massive demonstration this weekend.

Nixon's Nov. 3 broadcast was denounced by North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy as "A speech for war."

"It is certain the American people will oppose with increasing vigor the Nixon administration's policy of aggression," he continued.

In the meantime, Hanoi's man warned, North Vietnam will not modify its demand for a unilateral U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam and the overthrow of the Saigon government. If Nixon refuses to comply he said, "the people of the world will certainly strengthen their solidarity with the Vietnamese people."

Lodge accused the North Vietnamese and their Viet Cong allies of preferring "propaganda to making practical progress toward peace."

"You continue to rely on false expectations about events in the United States and South Vietnam rather than on joining us in seeking a settlement with justice for all parties," he declared.

Ambassador Pham Dong Lam of South Vietnam delivered a 3,000-word rejection of Hanoi's charge that the "Vietnamization" program is "a scheme to prolong the war."

"The Government of Vietnam is only searching for a just and genuine basis for peace in the South in order to channel all the abilities of the people and all the resources of the country into building the nation," Lam said.

Lam also announced that his government is releasing 62 North Vietnamese prisoners of war and asked Hanoi for a meeting to arrange the procedure.

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the provisional revolutionary government delegation to the talks, focussed as well on the anti war movement in America.

Mrs. Binh said the only "honorable way" out of the war for America is to accept the 10-point program of the Viet Cong.

"Critical" Week
A tired-looking Milliken, who called this a "critical" week for education reform, remained in his Capitol office through mid-evening Wednesday as the Senate pushed five measures into final vote position.

They included:

Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, noted some $200 million could be collected through still-pending revenue bills and said leaders had agreed a final vote would not be taken on the school aid bill until some revenue bills had passed the Senate.

Army Stands Ready For Protest March

Promise Of Tranquility Taken Lightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of a long file of marchers steps off tonight in a two-day procession that war protest leaders hope will culminate in the most massive peace demonstration in the history of the republic.

While order and tranquility have been promised, the Army stands ready.

Goal: End War

The stated goal of the protesters, converging on the capital from across the land, is to convince President Nixon the overwhelming majority of the American people want the war in Vietnam ended now.

But the President has said a "great, silent majority" is on his side and he and his spokesmen insist the foreign policy of the United States will not be altered by street parades.

With a last-minute display of amity between protest planners and the government, much of the tension that had built up in preparation for the three days of demonstrations seemed to dissipate.

Soldiers On Alert

But while optimism about nonviolence was being voiced on all sides on the eve of the protests, some 9,000 riot-trained soldiers were deployed around Washington, ready to move to protect the seat of government if the Justice Department—and Nixon—conclude things have gotten out of hand.

As the New Mobilization and Vietnam Moratorium committees feverishly worked out major details of the three-day campaign, the first of what protest leaders have predicted will be 250,000 demonstrators were trickling into the wet, chilly capital. A critical problem: billeting for tens of thousands as yet unaccommodated.

Snow Foreseen

An outside chance of Washington's first snow hung over the beginning of the 40-hour "march against death," scheduled to get under way shortly after dark tonight.

Single-file, marshaled by their own kind, told to obey all traffic rules, they will trudge from Arlington Cemetery across Memorial Bridge, around the Lincoln Memorial, and past the White House. Each marcher will bear a placard lettered with the name of an American fighting man killed in Vietnam, or a Vietnamese village destroyed.

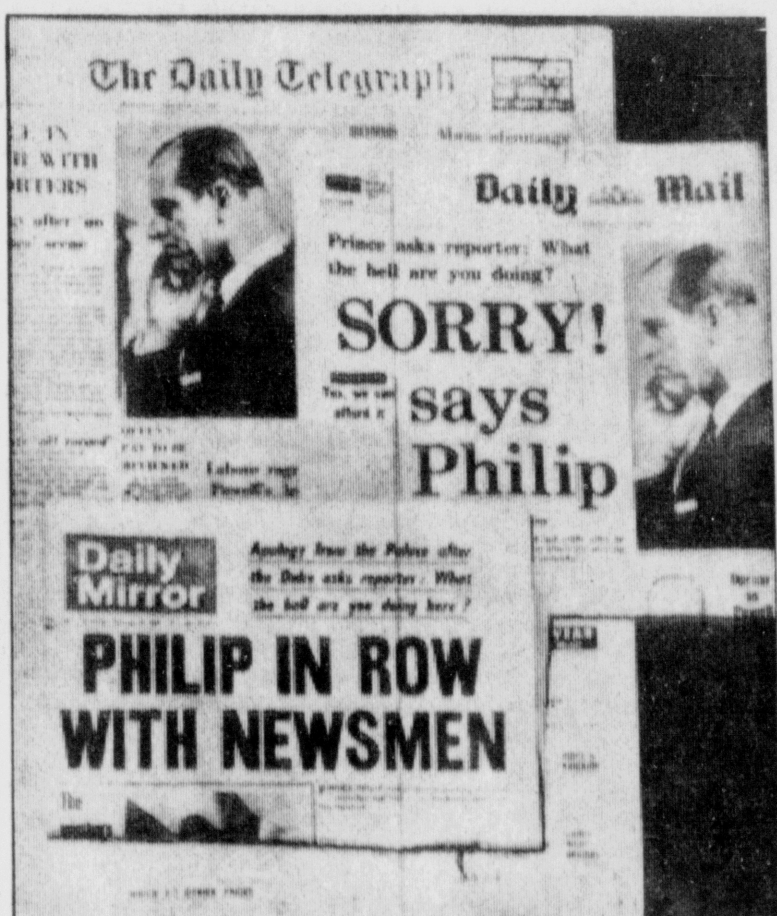

Call Off Names

On passing the northeast gate of the executive mansion on Pennsylvania Avenue, the marcher will call off the name on his placard, proceed toward the Capitol grounds, and place the sign in one of 40 coffins.

It's a 4.2 mile march that could take each of the 45,000 marchers 2½ to 4 hours, depending on traffic. The "March Against Death" is supposed to last from dusk tonight to dawn Saturday. The lead marchers would not be celebrities, but next-of-kin.

Thus the scene would be set for Saturday's mass march and rally—which until Wednesday had been the most jagged bone of contention between protesters and government.

Across the nation, planes, trains, and buses have long been chartered, autos pooled, for this day in Washington.

THIS IS THE WAY the London newspapers reacted Wednesday after Prince Philip berated reporters while speaking at a Small Business Association meeting. The Prince, surprised the reporters were at the meeting, asked one: "What in the Hell are you doing here?" and told the other: "I don't want anything of what I said quoted." Buckingham Palace issued an apology to the two men. (AP Wirephoto)

College Students Forget Class, Riot

By The Associated Press

Some Fordham University students wielded lead pipes to turn back unarmed campus guards, then ended a sit-in Wednesday night before New York City police arrived. Fourteen guards were injured, police said.

Elsewhere, protesters flew the Viet Cong flag at the Milwaukee campus of the University of Wisconsin and a group of Princeton University students tried unsuccessfully to blockade a building.

Officers Seized

At Fordham, about 75 students seized administrative offices in mid afternoon to protest the school's Reserve Officer Training Corps program. About half left, but 36 vowed to stay all night.

Unarmed campus police tried to break through barricades of broken furniture and overturned file cabinets. Some of the students held them with lead pipes and threw hot water.

After the guards retreated and city police were asked to help, the protesters broke two windows and scattered across the campus. Six were arrested.

14 Guards Injured

The 14 injured guards were taken to several Bronx hospitals. Police said two of the injuries were serious.

A university spokesman estimated the damage at "thousands and thousands of dollars." He said students did not try to break into the files.

Fordham has 12,000 students, 5,000 of them undergraduates. Last month, a referendum on the ROTC program found 53 per cent of the students participating favored continuation of its current voluntary status.

Door Barricaded

At the Milwaukee campus of the University of Wisconsin, several dozen persons behind a Viet Cong flag tried to take over the ROTC office. Nine of them — one a professor — got inside before 15 ROTC cadets barricaded the door.

Nixon Staying In Washington Despite Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon rarely has spent a full Saturday in the capital since taking office nearly 10 months ago, but he plans to be at the White House this weekend when the latest war protest is scheduled to reach its climax.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President, who usually flies to Florida or to nearby Camp David, Md., for his weekends, has a regular round of appointments Saturday.

3-Day Demonstration

That's when the protesters are to wrap up their three-day demonstration with a mass march down Pennsylvania Avenue to within a block of the executive mansion.

In addition to the announcement of the unusual weekend plans for the President, the White House also arranged an unusual Wednesday evening news conference for a bipartisan congressional delegation backing Nixon's Vietnam policies.

Majority Backs Nixon?

The session underlined an administration claim that it has a majority of both the Senate and House signed up in support of Nixon policies.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., describing himself to reporters as a Lyndon B. Johnson Democrat, said that a pro-Nixon House resolution he sponsored "has attracted such spontaneous support from both sides of the aisle that we now have 300 cosponsors."

On the Senate side, things were done differently, presumably because Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, would not think kindly of such a proposal.

Letter-Writing Plan

There, a letter-writing campaign is in progress with the messages addressed to Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. peace negotiator in Paris.

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said such letters, supporting the Nixon approach to ending the war, had been signed by 37 Republicans and 22 Democrats.

Nixon invited the members of Congress to the White House and set up a telephone call to Lodge in Paris in which each of the eight House members and two senators—Allott and Republican Strom Thurmond of South Carolina—took turns talking to the ambassador.

Lodge Elated

Wright said Lodge was "elated" by the phone expression of support.

The White House, as if to emphasize its "business-as-usual" stance, said normal public tours of the building would be conducted today and Friday. However, Ziegler said, due to the number of people expected in the capital for the demonstration, the White House will be closed on Saturday because "there will be no way to effectively conduct the public tours."

Indian Congress Backs Mrs. Gandhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — Three-fourths of the Indian Congress party's members in Parliament repudiated the party's old-guard titular leaders today and gave Prime Minister Indira Gandhi an overwhelming vote of confidence.

More than 300 of the 429 Congress members in the two legislative houses gave Mrs. Gandhi a cheering, desk-thumping ovation as she entered their caucus. Then 310 of them adopted a resolution declaring "invalid and unjustified" her expulsion from the party Wednesday by the conservative majority on the party executive committee.

There was one abstention but no opposing votes because Mrs. Gandhi's opponents boycotted the meeting.

"Mrs. Gandhi continues to be leader of the party and enjoys the full support and confidence of the party," the resolution declared.

Area School Heads Criticize Gov. Milliken

By BOB GREGG

The superintendents of Delta County's two largest school districts disagreed today on the possible fiscal merit of Gov. William Milliken's plan for educational reform. They agreed, however, that they were opposed to the centralization of the administrative end of education.

In interviews, Luther Barrett, superintendent of the Escanaba Area Schools, and Wesley Fleet, superintendent of the Gladstone Area Schools, both expressed their thoughts on the governor's reform package.

The package was recommended to the governor by the Educational Reform Commission. Under the reform, there would be a system of state support in which the same amount of money would be provided each child no matter where he lives. The reform package proposes a statewide property tax of 16 mills. The Governor also suggested abolishing of income tax credit for property taxes along with an increase in the state income tax to finance the plan.

Costs May Increase

"This would mean a great deal of added cost to the taxpayers of the Gladstone District," said Fleet.

"It has taken years to develop our school district. The reform would force us to have a 19 mill levy to provide the same school program we give now for 12.7 mills," he added. Fleet said that the Gladstone Area has been one of the more fortunate districts in the state when it came to finances. The average millage per school district in Michigan is 24.8 mills.

Barrett disagreed.

"I think the fiscal reform has some merit. It would save our area's taxpayers 5.1 mills," Barrett said. He added, however, that he thought every district would have to add personnel in order to plan future budgets under the reform plan.

"Our entire budgeting procedure would be changed. Under the reform plan, Lansing would have complete control over our local school budget," Fleet said. Despite an anticipated increase in funds, Barrett also said that he is opposed to Lansing controlling the financial purse strings.

Administration

Part of the governor's plan is the reorganization of some districts. This reorganization probably would affect the Gladstone schools far more than the Escanaba District.

"Under the plan of reorganization, the Gladstone District would undoubtedly take in added school districts. This would increase the size of our district considerably," explained Fleet. Barrett said that he did not foresee any reorganization including the Escanaba Schools, even if the reform package was passed.

Fleet expressed concern that part of his system's special programs could be eliminated by the governor's reform plan. "Some of our remedial and enrichment classes might not be taught under reform," he said.

Total View

"As far as the Gladstone Area Schools are concerned, this proposed reform legislation does not fit. The cost to area taxpayers would almost double, and the whole package would take away any local control," Fleet stated. "The state's schools need some kind of reform, but I don't think this is it," he added.

"I agree with Supt. Fleet," said Barrett. "We need educational reform. I just don't like the direction it's heading. Under the governor's package everything is centralized of education," Barrett said. "Education is one area in which local control has been maintained. We should try and keep that control."

During a recent meeting of the Upper Peninsula School Superintendents in Marquette the group decided that if more funds were ever needed over the proposed 16 mills that it favored the increase coming from an increase in the state income tax.

Superintendents throughout the state have voiced opposition to the fact that the proposed plan sets up school districts as business firms not educators.

The school directors agree, however, that the proposed reform will help the urban and low value districts but would be of little value to high value districts.

Under the governor's plan, the reform program would be phased in over a three-year period. Amounts to be made available for the second and third years are still up in the air.

For fiscal 1970-71, a bill in the Legislature would provide a minimum of $535 per child, and would guarantee that no school district would receive less state aid next year than this.

State Moratorium Events Appear Quiet

By The Associated Press

While most national attention is going to plans for Saturday's antiwar march and rally in Washington, plans are under way for a series of Moratorium Day observances around Michigan today, Friday and Saturday.

Events were to get under way in Detroit this afternoon with a pre-Moratorium forum at the University of Detroit. Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers Union, was the featured speaker.

The UAW international executive board has voted to endorse peaceful Moratorium Day activities.

Mazey said he also plans to speak tonight at a peace rally at a Northeast Detroit shopping center.

The antiwar protests get into full swing in Michigan Friday with a planned student strike at state high schools and colleges. The Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam is backing the student strike activities.

At Wayne State University, a morning rally is planned to promote the strike. Speakers are to include Brother Imari, also known as Richard Henry, who is regional vice president of the Republic of New Africa, and Prof. Otto Feinstein of the Student Mobilization Committee.

Later in the day, there will be a sendoff rally on the Wayne campus for Detroiters leaving to participate in Saturday's march in Washington. Similar ceremonies are planned in East Lansing, Mount Pleasant and Ann Arbor.

Some of the Moratorium activities will be very quiet. In Lansing, the Greater Lansing Coalition to End the War now says it is promoting discussion of the Vietnam war during the moratorium period.

"This effort will be very low-key and not especially visible," said one organizer.

Antiwar activities are also planned in Mount Pleasant, home of Central Michigan University. The Central Michigan University Senate has passed a resolution supporting the right of students to miss classes Friday. Plans for the Moratorium observance there include the planting of 2,000 crosses and Stars of David to commemorate war dead.

Grade School Named For Clarence Walshes

CURTIS—Clarence and Velma Walsh, retired teachers, now living in Curtis, drove to Utica Nov. 9 to attend the dedication of a new elementary school named in their honor—the Walsh Elementary School.

Clarence Walsh was born in Mount Pleasant, Mich. where he received his elementary and high school education. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Central Michigan University and a Master of Arts degree from Wayne State University, Detroit.

40 Years of Service

Forty-one years ago he began his career at Curtis, where he served eight years as principal. From 1936-1940 he was principal of the high school in Grand Rapids. The last 28 years he was principal in elementary education in Utica, making a total of 40 years service to the schools of Michigan.

In addition to the 40 years as principal, he served his community in many other capacities. He coached basketball, baseball, football, and the dramatic arts; he directed and sponsored 4-H Club programs, was scoutmaster of the Boy Scouts and a counselor for 28 years; he was very active in Parent-Teacher and community organizations.

Life Certificate

Velma Warner Walsh was born in Saginaw. She attended the Quick School in Tuscola County and the Cass City High School. She received a life certificate from Central Michigan University, and a Bachelor of Science degree from Wayne State University. She taught two years in Greenville, Mich. and the last 26 years in Utica.

Reading Program

She helped initiate and develop the remedial reading program in Utica and served as reading consultant for 4 years. The next six years she pioneered the research center concept in education. The concept has been so successful that research centers have been established in all of the 28 elementary schools of the Utica Community School System.

Clarence and Velma Walsh have one daughter, Dr. Mary Walsh Smith, and one grandson and one granddaughter, who live in Ann Arbor. Both Mary and her husband, Dr. Peter A. S. Smith are on the faculty of the University of Michigan staff.

Guest Speaker

The guest speaker at the dedication was Dr. Wayne Woodby, Superintendent of Schools in Centerline, Mich.

Albert Warner, Michigan Bell executive, and brother of Mrs. Walsh presented a portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Walsh to the school.

Among the many distinguished guests present were Dr. and Mrs. Myron David Orr, Dr. Orr, a prominent Michigan novelist and attorney, is now a professor at the Alpena Community College.

Mr. and Mrs. Walsh have chosen Curtis as their permanent home.

Steel-Making Process Debuts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Midland-Ross Corp. said Wednesday it has put into commercial production a new process which it describes as "the most exciting advance in steel making in a decade."

The company has developed a method of producing highly metallized pellets as a raw material for electric furnace steel making. This is a replacement of the conventional use of scrap steel as the raw material.

Harry J. Bolwell, president of Midland-Ross, said the new process converts ore into 95 per cent metallized pellets. They are being produced and used in a new $35 million plant and mill at Portland, Ore.

The pellets are used in an adjacent mill of Oregon Steel Mills, a division of Gilmore Steel Corp. in making steel plate.

Bolwell said Midland-Ross expected to begin construction of three more pellet plants, including one at Hamburg, Germany in the next six months.

Girl, 16, Arrested After Wild Chase

HOUGHTON — Police here recently observed an auto backing down a street and decided to investigate. Before they were through, they had chased the car around town at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

The driver, a 16-year-old girl, was issued summonses for (1) improper use of a one-way street; (2) speeding 80 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone; (3) defective equipment; (4) no operator's license on person; (5) reckless driving; (6) failure to stop on a policeman's signal, and (7) having beer in her possession.

One of the passengers in the car told officers he shut off the ignition, bringing the car to a halt, "because I didn't want to get killed."

Three minors in the car were also arrested for having beer in their possession. A 22-year-old passenger was arrested for furnishing beer to minors.

An 18-year-old Hancock youth was ticketed for allowing an unlicensed person to drive his car.

Frank Kelley Turns Guns On Young Lawyer

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today preferred criminal charges against a Detroit attorney in the second prosecution arising from an investigation of allegations of illegal activities in Workmen's Compensation awards.

Mervyn Sternberg, 35, was charged with six counts of embezzlement in a criminal complaint filed in Detroit Recorder's Court.

The complaint alleges six different instances of embezzlements involving six different clients from Nov., 1967, through Nov., 1968.

Kelley said the sums ranged from $272 to $950 and total in excess of $3,500. The complaint alleges Sternberg embezzled the funds by having the claimants endorse Workmen's Compensation checks made out to them, cashing the checks and remitting back amounts less than the awards.

Under the Workmen's Compensation Law, Kelley said, the award check is entirely the property of the claimant. Separate checks for attorney's fees already been sent to the attorney, he said.

The State Bar of Michigan also has been holding hearings in the Sternberg case, charging him with wrongdoing and irregularities.

Norman Gerald Hbirt, 29, of Detroit, previously was charged with seven counts of embezzlement in Workmen's Compensation cases in a criminal complaint filed by Kelley in Detroit Recorder's Court on July 2. A pretrial conference in this case has been set for Dec. 1.

Conviction of embezzlement carries a maximum sentence of not more than 10 years in prison or a fine not exceeding $5,000.

Only 590,000 Coupons To Go

Only 590,000 coupons to go. The Upper Peninsula Kidney Foundation chapter reported Wednesday that 10,000 Betty Crocker coupons needed have been collected. General Mills, Inc., will buy a kidney machine for the chapter if 600,000 coupons can be collected for redemption by June, 1970.

Coupons can be deposited at Goodman Drug Store in Escanaba or mailed to the chapter secretary at 1016 10th Ave. S., Escanaba.

Chapter officers reported that the Halloween candy sale was a huge success with 1,200 bags sold. Proceeds went into the drug bank for people who have chronic kidney disease and also for patients who need medication after kidney transplants.

To date the U. P. Kidney Chapter has contributed over $600 to the Delta-Menominee Health Department to help purchase supplies for the urine screening in December in grade schools in Delta County. Members of the U. P. Chapter will be helping Dr. Mary Cretens with the screening program.

Seeks Approval On Limited Open Enrollment Plan

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — School Supt. Norman P. Weinheimer is seeking approval for a limited open enrollment policy aimed at improving the racial balance in Grand Rapids schools.

Weinheimer included the request in a list of 14 proposals he submitted to the Board of Education Tuesday night.

Under the plan, pupils in elementary and middle schools could move to other schools that have space available—if the transfer would further integration at both schools. Weinheimer asked that the policy take effect next year since "housing patterns change slowly."

College Seeking Accreditation

The Bay de Noc Community College Governing Board Wednesday approved a 1970-71 capital outlay request to the State of Michigan, including a request for a campus center.

The center will be the fourth building to be constructed on the new campus and contains a cafeteria, some recreational facilities, counseling offices, and some additional administrative space said President Richard Rinehart. Also considered was a proposed program statement for a building to provide maintenance space and vehicle storage for college equipment. It was further proposed that sufficient space be allotted for a welding laboratory in the same structure.

The Board reviewed the capital funding plan which, with state and federal assistance, will complete the basic campus buildings utilizing the present bond issue.

Must Pay $534 In Deer Slaying

The killing of two doe deer and the possession of illegal venison proved expensive for four men who entered pleas of guilty in Delta District Court on Monday.

Three of the four were sentenced to five days in jail each and the fourth was placed on probation; and the deer hunting license privilege of all four was revoked for three years.

Department of Natural Resources officers made the arrests on Nov. 7 in the Gladstone area.

Phillip A. Way, 21, of 635 N. 9th St., Gladstone, pleaded guilty to unlawfully killing two doe deer; Darrell Couillard, 17, of Perkins, driver of the car, entered a guilty plea to unlawfully aiding, abetting, counseling and assisting Way in illegally killing the deer.

Roger D. McMillan, 18, also of 635 N. 9th St., Gladstone, was sentenced for unlawful possession of the two illegally taken deer; and Harold E. Brazeau, 34, also of 635 N. 9th St., Gladstone, was sentenced for unlawful possession of portions of deer illegally taken.

Because of a home situation, Brazeau's 5-day jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for six months.

The fines and costs totaled $324, liquidation damages for the killing of the two deer totaled $210, for a grand total of $534.

B&PW Hears About Schools

Mrs. Cynthia Winters, director of information services for the Escanaba Area School District, spoke to the Escanaba Business & Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel. Mrs. Winters has a communications background and was employed in a similar capacity with Chicago schools.

People have become more conscious of education during the past 15 years than any time in the past, Mrs. Winters said. "We have educated people to the point where they are demanding to know more. A school system is about as good as the people who live in the community and are willing to provide for," Mrs. Winters said.

A speaker's bureau is normally set up through an information services department, Mrs. Winters said. This provides a means of communicating information to organizations and the public in general by teachers and others in the school system. Through her office a means is provided for people in the school district to communicate back to the Board of Education and the superintendent of schools. The schools are there to serve the people of the community, she said.

Mrs. Winters said that her office will shortly make a survey to learn the public's reactions to certain programs now in effect in the school system and to learn what areas they feel should be changed or strengthened. The end result is to turn out capable citizens for our country, whether they are going to college or going into various vocations direct from high school.

Her first project is the development of statistics about the community. She will also work with the staff, learning about some of the interesting work being done in the classroom. Mrs. Winters said that she is beginning to hear about some of the educational programs the teachers have begun. Some of them are working individually with children, giving them an opportunity to achieve at their own level.

Mrs. Delia Peterson, chairman of the membership committee, was in charge of the program.

Appeal Work Nearing End

With deer season opening Saturday, Catholic parishes of the Upper Peninsula are working to complete calls for the second annual U. P. Catholic Services Appeal before the hunt starts.

About 11,000 families still have to be visited, according to incomplete reports. A total of 17,826 cards have been completed by volunteer appeal workers and parishioners. Of these, 9,986 gifts were reported.

A total of $422,106 has been pledged, including $167,695 in cash. Fifty of the 93 parishes in the Marquette Diocese had up-to-date reports filed through Nov. 10.

Eight parishes have topped their 1969-70 UPCS goals. They are St. John's of Marquette; Sacred Heart in Champlain; St. Jude's, White Pine; St. Mary's of Hahawick; St. Isaac Joques, Sault Ste. Marie; St. Stanislaus, Goetzville; St. Francis Xavier, Brimley; St. Joseph's of Rudyard.

Seven of the eight also topped their quotas by this time last year. St. Mary's of Mohawk was also one of the top contributors last year, but reported later.

Largemouth bass are found in every state except Alaska.

A Busy Day

Thinking out loud about Tuesday, a reporter's nightmare and editor's dream, because of the difficulty in being a dozen places at the same time to report on the mass of public activity which the following day provides a newspaper full of lively local copy:

Pleasing to see the Escanaba Area public schools after several years of deficits on the road to financial stability — at least for the moment. Income for the 1969-70 school year will exceed expenses, according to the budget adopted by the Board of Education, by $62,717. Applying this amount to the carryover deficit of $67,097, the district will have a deficit of $4,380 if everything goes according to plans. It's the closest the district has come to black ink in a few years. Before getting too optimistic, however, a reminder is due that a millage election probably will be necessary next year to replace the 9.4 extra voted mills which will expire after next month's tax bills.

Pleasing also to see the Escanaba Country Club membership vote to go ahead with plans to develop a new clubhouse, a badly needed facility for the only golf course within the city limits. The old building, while an "old friend" to many members and a landmark in Escanaba, simply has outlived its usefulness to the growing and active club. The golf course since the fairway watering system was installed has developed into the finest nine-hole layout in the Upper Peninsula. The time has come to do something about the clubhouse.

Disturbing to see that the Citizens Advisory Safety Committee of the City Council failed to reach a quorum at a meeting called to discuss the problem of traffic flow and parking in the central business district. More businessmen showed up than committee members.

If there is a lack of interest in the committee, part of the blame must rest with the Council itself. The committee, after a number of meetings and considerable study, provided a set of recommendations to Council. Those were promptly tossed back to the committee for further study along with the proposals of the business group, almost as if to tell the committee that its first recommendations hadn't been carefully considered.

Study of a situation is good, but if a group makes a sincere effort its recommendations should be accepted in good faith. A committee cannot work in good faith if it knows that whatever suggestions it makes will never see the light of day.

Sobering to be reminded that the City of Escanaba is faced with a $6 million program to improve water and wastewater utilities. The local share is expected to be about $3 million. Delay in the program is only going to send the bill soaring higher, but the $3 million local figure serves to emphasize the critical problems facing municipal government, not only in Escanaba but all over the nation. The mind is willing, but the wallet reluctant.

Disturbing to see the problems iron ore dust from the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. ore terminal have created with residents of north Escanaba, but pleasing to see that a committee like the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air is actively working for a solution.

Refreshing to see that 11-year-old Terry Demars of Manistique watches more than the football and instant replays in Sunday's telecasts of National Football League games. Terry complained to Commissioner Pete Rozelle about the lack of attention on the part of pro players during the playing of the National Anthem. Heartening to read of Rozelle's interest in 11-year-old football fans in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan as indicated by the commissioner's reply that Terry's letter is being forwarded to every team in the league.

The Family Lawyer

"Guilty" Mother
Any man whose wife commits adultery has grounds for getting a divorce. Is he also entitled to custody of their children?

Not always. Most courts will look not only at the specific fact of adultery but also at the general family picture. Above all, they will consider what is best for the children.

Thus, in one custody dispute, the evidence showed that the wife had indeed been guilty of adultery. But it also showed that she had always been devoted to the children, took excellent care of them, and saw to it that they did well in school.

Giving her custody of the children, the court commented:

"Although she may have been a bad wife, she (has also been) a good mother."

Furthermore, special needs of the children may strengthen the mother's side of the case, despite her adultery. For example:

One mother won custody because the child was only two years old ("because of the tender age of the child, the law favors the mother.")

Another mother won custody because the children were female ("the welfare of little girls ordinarily lies with their mother, and they should not be taken from her for any except the most cogent reasons.")

And another mother won custody because the child was ailing ("the child will continue to receive proper care and attention.")

"Nevertheless, even though adultery is not the only factor in deciding custody, it still weighs heavily indeed in the scales of justice. Again, the reason lies in seeking what is best for the children. As one judge said, in giving custody of a child to a wronged father:

"Courts usually award custody to the innocent party not as punishment (to one parent) or reward (to the other), but upon the assumption that the child will be reared in more wholesome moral surroundings."

BIGGER AND BRIGHTER

The Law And Order Trend Still Holds

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Richard Nixon got some magnificent free time on the air for his Vietnam speech, and it was just the day before the elections, yet.

Perish the thought that there could have been any political motive in scheduling the speech for the first Monday in November. After, all the President had good reason to go to the country on the overriding subject of the war before the Nov. 14-15 peace marchers descended on the national capital.

But motives are one thing, and the practical effect of a great speech on people who are about to vote is another. The fact is that Nixon's candidates scored heavily in the New Jersey and the Virginia elections within 24 hours of the President's talk on Vietnam. Ironically, no liberal rose to complain.

The New Jersey gubernatorial vote, which went overwhelmingly for six-term Congressman William T. Cahill in his race against former Gov. Robert B. Meyner, offers a most interesting field for speculation.

Cahill, a strong law and order proponent who had once worked as a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Little Rock, Ark., and St. Louis, wasn't that far ahead of Meyner in the early pre-election polls. Just before the election he did move five points in front of Meyner, getting 44 per cent to his Democratic opponent's 39. But 17 per cent of the voters were still announcing themselves as undecided.

Query: Since Meyner had made an issue of Nixon's conduct of the war, how many of that 17 per cent moved to Cahill's side because of Nixon's Vietnam speech?

There were things about the election that would tend to make anyone's crystal ball murky. While Virginia and New Jersey were going Republican (with the conservative and law and order trends still running strong), the picture in New York State—which is just as much a part of the industrial Northeast as New Jersey—was somewhat different.

The Democrats made gains in normally Republican Westchester County. In upstate cities there wasn't much to encourage the Republicans: the law and order Republican-Conservative candidate in Buffalo, Mrs. Alfreda Slominski, could not parlay her often expressed concern for the "forgotten middle class" to a victory over the popular Democratic Mayor Frank Sedita.

Syracuse went Democratic, which was unusual; Albany stayed Democratic, which is not exactly noteworthy. And Mayor John Lindsay, the super-liberal, put on a surprise finish in New York City to beat Democrat Mario Procaccino, and Republican - Conservative John Marchi.

Despite the surface showing in New York State, however, the law and order issue obviously retains its pull among a bewildered populace.

When a white sheriff, no less, can win in Detroit against a sufficiently popular Negro, one must say that the trend in municipal elections that began with Mayor Yorty's upset victory in Los Angeles and continued with the Stenvig win in Minneapolis is not yet slackening. In Cleveland, Negro Mayor Carl Stokes eked out a second victory, but Stokes has had a rather good record of obtaining racial harmony, and went into the election with the backing of many white businessmen. Cleveland resists easy placing on the trend line.

In Washington, the contrast between the New York City and the Virginia elections provoked speculation about possible party switches, the feeling being that John Lindsay might become a Democrat at about the same time that Senator Harry Byrd decided his future must reside in becoming a Republican. There were even predictions that the Democrats might go to bat nationally in 1972 with a Lindsay-Muskie ticket, with all the Kennedy-ites in Lindsay's corner.

What is lost sight of here is that Lindsay, who did marvelously well in Manhattan and even squeezed out a win in Queens County by stressing law and order on his own, lost to the other candidates in Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Richmond. His victory margin in the city as a whole came from a coalition of the very rich and the very poor; the middle classes tended to go for his opponents, making him a minority victor.

Nationally, no coalition of the very rich and the very poor could possibly win against a good middle class candidate (i. e., Richard Nixon).

On balance, then, the analysis set forth by Kevin Phillips in his firmly documented treatise on "The Emerging Republican Majority" still holds. The country, despite the noise of demonstrators, shows no present disposition to go wildly to the left.

The dragonfly, living as an underwater nymph, dines chiefly on mosquito wrigglers or larva, and continues its diet as a winged adult, consuming thousands of mosquitoes on the wing.

Credit Cards Coming To Charge Tax Bill?

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — You can purchase practically anything else on a credit card—from gas to groceries to entry into a bar featuring go-go girls — so why not pay taxes that way?

Several states are allowing such credit card payments for property taxes. Arkansas will start a system Dec. 1 allowing payment of state taxes on the card.

Michigan tax officials are skeptical about the idea.

State board director Glenn Allen shudders at the thought.

"I'm afraid it would be abused," he explained. "A lot of people might have good intentions but would over-extend their credit."

"I'm sure any agency that would guarantee payment would charge us a markup price that would cost the state dollars. There would inevitably be a jam-up on their collections. Those who would be the first to use the credit card would be the most likely to abuse it," Allen reasoned.

Fears For Forecasts
Allen takes great pride in predicting state revenues for any fiscal year within a fraction of a per cent.

"I'm afraid this would throw my predictions off," he said.

"If the state ever does take this up, I would gladly quit my job and take over the contract with a good markup for collection charges," he added.

Allen said that as a former practicing attorney, he once had experience in the field of collecting bad debts.

"That's why I don't buy the idea," he said.

Different View
Frank Shumway, general manager for Michigan Bankard, largest credit card operation in the state, takes an entirely different view.

"We think it is the coming thing," Shumway asserted. "The credit card eventually will become the medium of exchange to replace cash and checks."

"In all the problems now operating, the state is not charged any markup. They get the money from the bank and it is up to us to collect it."

He added that such a program would make credit card outfits take a more searching look at the financial background of card holders.

"We haven't been approached by anybody but we are interested in the idea and looking at it," Shumway said.

No Bridge Charging

Michigan Bankard, incidentally, used to be good for passage fare over the Straits of Mackinac bridge. The bank guaranteed the money and the card holder simply had to flash his card to have it put on his credit.

"We discontinued the plan when we cut bridge fares as of last Jan. 1," said Lawrence Rubin, executive secretary of the bridge authority. "Before, it had worked fine. We never lost money on it. But with the slash in fares there was too much bookkeeping involved."

Clarence Lock, state revenue commissioner, said the idea has been bounced around in his department.

"But we figure there would have to be legislation to legalize it," Lock said. "We are going to ask the attorney general's office for an informal opinion on the legality of the idea."

"Normally on credit card deals, the bank or company is paid a commission. We certainly would not be willing to buy it on that basis. So we are going to throw it to the attorney general's office for a check-out."

Opening lead—jack of hearts. Declarer frequently starts out with one plan of play and later abandons it for another when he discovers that the original plan will not work. This is surely a laudable practice, since it cannot be right to persist in a course of play merely because it looked good at the start.

In fact, in selecting his approach, declarer should attempt to keep his plans flexible so that he will have an alternative method of play available if anything goes wrong. South neglected to do this in today's hand and went down as a result.

West led a heart and East produced the king, which South very properly ducked. Declarer won the heart continuation and played the ace and another diamond, following low from dummy after West had produced the nine. West returned a heart and South ended with eight tricks for down one.

In effect, South staked the outcome of the hand on a 3-2 diamond break. While it is true that his method of play would have succeeded in the great majority of deals, it nevertheless left something to be desired. South should not have put all his eggs in this one basket.

Instead, he should have won the nine of diamonds with dummy's king in order to ascertain whether the suit was divided 3-2. If East followed suit, he could then guarantee the contract by leading another diamond.

But if, as in the actual case, East showed out, South could look elsewhere for his ninth trick. He could now try to find a favorable spade division, which would give him the hand if it turned out that the spades were divided 3-3.

As soon as East showed out on the king of diamonds, South would lead a low spade from dummy and play low from his hand. His ninth trick would later materialize when dummy's fourth spade became a winner.

Muzzle Suggested For Talkative Wife

Dear Ann Landers: My wife has an annoying habit of interrupting me in mid-sentence. I suspect she has fallen into this habit because of an inferiority complex.

I've told her repeatedly that these interruptions are not only rude but frustrating. She pays no attention and the interruptions continue. So, in self-defense, I have adopted a technique to relieve my anger. I squeeze her nose between my thumb and index finger when she interrupts. This gives me a feeling of deep satisfaction which displaces the pure hate.

While it is a successful tactic from a psychological point of view, it hasn't deterred her one iota. She still interrupts. What do you suggest? — Lexington

Dear Lex: A man who would squeeze his wife's nose when she interrupts would do anything. Have you considered clapping a muzzle on her mouth? Or swatting her in the bazoos with an old fashioned mustard plaster?

This woman is obviously a compulsive talker and I can tell you right now there is no cure for it. The most effective method of dealing with interrupters is to continue talking, disregard the interrupter, and make it clear you have no intention of yielding the floor.

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing for my neighbor because she is not educated. Please tell me what she should do.

In 1960, Mrs. C. needed $220 to pay the taxes on her little house. She went to a loan company and was told they didn't make "small loans." They talked her into borrowing $1500.

She fell behind in her payments, and yesterday received a notice saying she has lost her home to the loan company. She didn't realize her home was the collateral. The woman cannot afford a lawyer. What should she do? — Sorry For Her

Dear Sorry: She can call Legal Aid and be thankful for those big-hearted lawyers who give their time to this splendid agency.

And let this be a lesson to others who sign agreements without legal counsel. Poor people who think they can't afford a lawyer are the ones who need a lawyer the most.

Dear Ann Landers: Why would a 36-year-old man who is handsome, successful, romantic and well thought of by colleagues and employees, return to a wife whom he described as self-centered, uninteresting, and zero as a bed partner, when he was enjoying the intellectual and physical stimulation of a 25-year-old woman with whom he communicated perfectly for three weeks?

Religion is not a factor. There are no children involved. The younger woman is unmarried, cooperative, and available. What's the answer? — Losers Weepers.

Dear Loser: The sample was ample.

Confidential to No Window No Door: You are a prisoner of an unforgiving heart. Not only must you forgive him, but you must forget — really forget about the past. Balzac said it best — "To forget is the great secret of strong and creative existences." Those who refuse to forget resign themselves to a life of hell. (That last gem was me . . . not Balzac.)

Medal Of Honor Winners Prove Different Breed

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — They were there, like millions of other Americans, but they gave a little more to win the nation's highest award for bravery. Some paid for the Medal of Honor with their lives. The survivors became a breed apart from other men.

"The medal is harder to wear than it is to earn," says Lt. Charles Hagemeister of Ft. Knox. "Any GI exposed to combat is a likely candidate for the citation. If he obtains it, people expect more from him. They unconsciously set up standards which he must meet."

Two At Fort Knox
Hagemeister and Capt. James A. Taylor, also stationed at Knox, were honored for heroism in Vietnam.

M. Sgt. Ernest Kouma, the post game warden, came out of the Korean War with the same decoration.

These three career soldiers, only Medal of Honor winners stationed at this sprawling Army base, speak matter-of-factly of their deeds.

"When you see your buddies in trouble, you don't pause to weigh the consequences," said Hagemeister. "You just wade right in."

He did just that on March 20, 1967, when his unit came under heavy fire from three sides by a Viet Cong force.

Rushes To Aid
Hagemeister, a medic, saw two of his comrades drop under the barrage and rushed forward to provide aid. He then assisted three other men and became a sniper's target.

Seizing a rifle, Hagemeister killed the sniper and silenced a machine-gun emplacement that was harassing the platoon.

Despite the enemy's attempts to stop him, Hagemeister successfully evacuated the wounded.

After completing his tour of duty, he was commissioned a second lieutenant and chose the Armor School at Knox.

He feels it is right for America to be involved in Southeast Asia and that there's nothing wrong with military life. "I wouldn't change places with anyone," says the 23-year-old bachelor from Lincoln, Neb.

Neither would Capt. Taylor. During a nine-hour skirmish on Nov. 9, 1967, Taylor rescued crew members of four assault vehicles that were hit, was wounded himself, and eliminated an enemy position.

Taylor recalls that 46 of the approximately 100 men in his troop were wounded and one was killed before the North Vietnamese broke off the engagement, leaving behind 400 to 500 dead.

The 31-year-old hero has no qualms about returning to Vietnam. "This is my business and when I'm over there, I'm doing my job."

Plans To Teach
A native of Arcata, Calif., he expects to become a school teacher when he retires from the Army six years from now.

Retirement is approximately one year away for Sgt. Kouma, who keeps poachers from infiltrating the Knox game preserve. He rarely speaks of the nine hours of combat that entitled him to the Medal of Honor.

He was a tank commander near Agok, Korea, when an infantry outfit was mauled by 500 North Koreans.

The Americans were told to withdraw and Kouma was ordered to remain behind to delay the enemy as much as possible.

After his tank was surrounded, he manned the turret gun until its ammunition was exhausted then jumped to the ground and continued the attack with his pistol and three grenades.

The citation issued later to the native of Omaha, Neb., credited him with killing 250 members of the attacking force.

Non-Briefing On Arms Talks Irks Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Senate Foreign Relations Committee members say they are upset over failure of the administration to brief them on the U.S.-Soviet arms control talks starting Monday.

The senators also express displeasure because no members of Congress have been invited to Helsinki as observers to the strategic arms limitation talks —SALT.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., charged the White House told officials of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency not to brief senators and House members on the talks.

Gore canceled a meeting of his disarmament subcommittee Wednesday after the State Department, presidential foreign policy adviser Henry Kissinger and the White House congressional liaison office failed to respond to requests for a briefing.

What angered committee members, including Gore and Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., was a promise two weeks ago by Secretary of State William P. Rogers to keep them informed on SALT developments.

On the basis of Rogers' word the committee then decided to hold off on a resolution urging a U.S. initiative to halt tests of multiwarhead missiles.

But early this week the senators said they had to read the newspapers to find out about the administration decision against opening the talks with any proposals to halt development of the multiwarhead weapons.

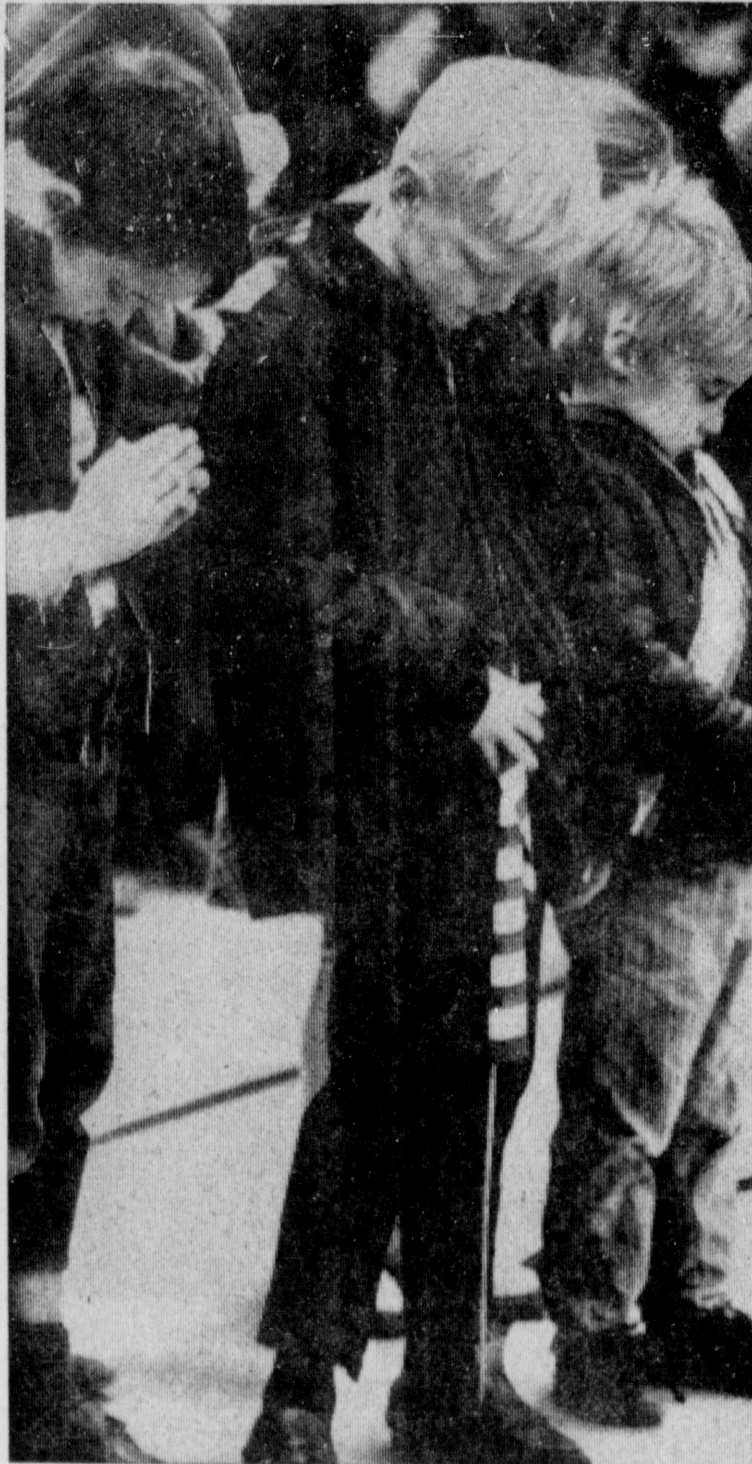

Gore said his subcommittee wished to be briefed by the disarmament agency "with respect to the negotiating position."

Meanwhile, Senate sources said they could not recall another major conference where no senators nor representatives were invited as observers.

Fulbright said he plans to raise the matter next Tuesday when Rogers appears before the committee in closed session at what is supposed to be the start of a broad review of Vietnam policy.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

State Man 'Forges' Ahead As Blacksmith

ROCKFORD (AP) — The spreading chestnut tree and the village smithy are no longer part of the image but Don Zank is still forging ahead as a blacksmith.

The 33-year-old Rockford resident is a fulltime farrier and travels nearly 18,000 miles annually shoeing horses even though he admits, "I like to stay within 50 miles of my home."

Shoeing horses is an 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. job for Zank and the hours may be even longer in the summertime — Zank's busy season.

"Most blacksmiths are mobile now. We travel from farm to farm. The stops can be for one horse on up to 80 to 90 head," Zank said in describing his work.

He covers portions of Kent and Montcalm counties with 1,800 pounds of equipment, including a portable forge, packed in his pickup truck.

"Horseshoeing is a job you gotta like," Zank said. "It's a highly professional business... and the more you work, the more you learn."

"Most people think of a grubby, dirty old man when they think of a blacksmith. It's just not that way anymore," he observed.

The farrier contended that a blacksmith must "know the anatomy of a horse—almost like a horse doctor." The blacksmith must learn to correct hoof diseases and trim them properly to avoid straining a horse's ligament or tendon, he said.

Zank said he recommends trimming hooves every two months and shoeing at about six-week intervals although he suggests removing the shoes in wintertime to rest a horse's foot.

Some horse owners put off shoeing their animals because of the costs but Zank has little patience with that. "It's my feeling that if you can't afford the horse, you shouldn't have it," he declared.

Shoeing horses apparently is not an uncommon skill in Michigan. The Michigan Horseshoers Association was formed earlier this year and now has 79 members.

"Up until now you lived in your own little world and worked your own area. Now, we get together and talk about our experiences as blacksmiths," Zank said.

Student Board
EAST LANSING (AP)—The new chairman of the Associated Students of Michigan State University says he wants to change the student board so members will spend more time talking with students.

William R. Rusten, 20, Frankenthum, was elected Tuesday night after Tom Samet resigned. Samet said he had done enough. Rusten said he felt the student board had been spending too much time in its offices and not enough on campus.

Meeting Change
LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Highway Commission decided Wednesday to conduct its regular business meetings on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month. Up to now, the commission has met on the second Tuesday and the fourth Thursday of the month.

End The War Plan

LANSING (AP) — An organization called the Greater Lansing Coalition to End the War Now says it is promoting community discussion of the Vietnam war during antiwar activities this week.

Mike Honey, coordinator, said the group plans to distribute 50,000 copies of a newspaper relating society's problems to the war.

Vaccination

LANSING (AP)—Some 600,000 Michigan children aged 5 to 8

will receive vaccination for German measles under a program of the Michigan Department of Health.

George Washington, director of the department of administration, said the state is paying $1.71 per dose, or a total of $1.01 million, for the program.

The vaccine is being received from Merc, Sharp and Dohme in monthly shipments until the full order is filled in February.

DDT Had Its Good Points At One Time

NEW YORK (AP) — DDT is one of the most potent man-made bombs ever to explode in the insect world.

It has saved hundreds of thousands of human lives by wiping out the mosquitoes that transmit malaria. It has saved millions of dollars worth of man's crops from being consumed by armies of insects.

But now DDT is coming under government ban, and it underscores the fact that modern man's technology is often a two-edged sword—it can do as much or more harm than good.

Look, for example, to Borneo where the World Health Organization once used DDT to kill off malaria-carrying mosquitoes.

It killed the mosquitos, but it didn't kill roaches, which accumulated DDT in their bodies.

Long-tailed lizards, called geckoes, that roam the walls and floors of tropical houses, ate the roaches, as usual.

Reuther Backing Higher Social Security 'Wages'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers Union president, called Wednesday for an immediate 50 per cent increase in social security benefits payments and use of general federal tax revenues to bolster social security funds.

Reuther, saying he was representing four million members of the Alliance for Labor Action, of which he is co-chairman, told the House Ways and Means Committee that "we have failed to provide sufficient retirement income to assure the security and dignity to which American workers are entitled after a lifetime of work."

He also called for a national health insurance program.

He said the social security program should guarantee retirees at least two-thirds of their average earnings covered by social security in the years before they ceased working.

Reuther urged congressional action to establish a minimum monthly benefit of $100, effective Jan. 1, for a worker retiring at age 65. He said this should be increased to $110 on Jan. 1, 1971, and to $120 on Jan. 1, 1972.

Death Fouls Up Italian's Plan To Enter U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Detroit, has introduced a bill to solve the plight of a 48-year-old Italian who waited nine years to come to the United States, then was told that because his immigration sponsor died he would have to go to the bottom of the waiting list.

Nedzi's measure would amend the current immigration law to permit substitution of a sponsor with no loss of place on the waiting list.

The action came about because of the situation involving Vito Serra, a 48-year-old carpenter and father of three who lives in Terrasino, Italy, near Palermo.

Serra's brother, Antonino, came to Center Line, Mich., near Detroit, in 1921 and opened a grocery.

Another brother, John, followed in 1956 and became a barber in Detroit.

Serra applied for a visa in 1960 and Antonino agreed to be his sponsor.

Antonino died in July. Serra's immigration number came up in September.

John attempted unsuccessfully to have his name substituted as a sponsor. He said, "What's the difference? I could just as easily have been the original sponsor."

Nedzi said he sought the sponsorship substitution from immigration officials "but after pursuing it I found there was no solution. Under the present law there is no administrative remedy for such a situation."

Nedzi said he has "found considerable support among my colleagues" for an amendment to allow sponsor substitution.

GR Police Fire Back At Pizzza Parlor Owner

MUSKEGON (AP) — A pizza parlor proprietor who contends policemen are bad for business and banned them from his shop has never complained "about any wrongdoing by an officer," says Muskegon's police chief.

In fact, said Chief Herbert J. Dodd his men have been told in the past that the pizza place's owner would not permit them to pay for their purchases there.

Tony Koteles banned uniformed law enforcement officers from his store recently claiming they hampered his business, took up several tables at busy hours, and discouraged patronage by those headed home from taverns.

Undersheriff Harry J. Pennington said Koteles called Sheriff Marion Calkings last spring to say deputies were not welcome at the restaurant in Muskegon Township. The undersheriff said deputies were told in April to stay away from Koteles' business and have done so.

Meanwhile, Koteles said his business last weekend was $300 higher than on weekends when law enforcement officers were present.

End Of Smallpox Vaccination Eyed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two researchers from the National Communicable Disease Center have recommended that routine childhood smallpox vaccination be discontinued.

The benefits, they declared, no longer outweigh the risks.

The recommendation came from Dr. J. Michael Lane, chief of the domestic branch of the center's smallpox eradication program, and Dr. J. D. Millar, director of the program, in a report to a meeting of the American Public Health Association.

The recommendation does not

Detroit Priests Continue With Strike Program

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's dissident Catholic priests are going ahead with strike plans despite assurances their demands probably will be met by Jan. 1.

The priests, members of the Association of Detroit Priests, have threatened to take a strike vote among all diocesan priests if their demands for an overhaul of the church's grievance system are not met by Nov. 30.

The Rev. Father Richard Ward, pastor of St. Aloysius Church told a news conference Tuesday that by the first of next year the archdiocese of Detroit will have put into effect "due process" procedures as demanded by the dissidents.

Kenneth E. Prather, a lawyer representing the priests, said, "We've heard these promises before."

The dissidents, about 70 of the archdiocese's 800 priests, want a system under which complaints would be considered by a quasi-judicial hearing board composed of clergy and lay members, rather than by the church hierarchy.

Cost Overrun Problems Laid To Cost Growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — When is a cost overrun not an overrun?

When it's a cost growth, that's when—so says an assistant secretary of defense.

The swollen costs over original estimates of the giant C5A jet cargo plane brought the term overrun into wide public usage and a House appropriations subcommittee talked it over last June with Pentagon officials.

Barry J. Shillito, assistant secretary of defense, in closed-door testimony made public today, suggested one problem was that different people attach different meanings to the word overrun.

"I would like not to refer to this problem as overruns," Shillito told the panel, "but throughout the balance of our discussions refer to it as 'cost growth' in that I believe a very small percentage of the total cost growth can be defined as overruns."

The actual overrun problems, he said, generally occur only on a fraction of the individual contracts although these involve "a significant number of dollars."

Shillito explained cost growth breaks down into these groupings: Changes agreed to between the department and contractor; changes required by the contractor to meet specifications imposed on him; and cases where either makes a poor estimate in the labor, material or overhead required.

After listening to all this, Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa., told Shillito:

"We are using the term 'overruns' interchangeably with 'cost growth.' At least on this side of the table."

Shillito replied: "I don't care what you call it, Mr. Flood."

"Oh, yes, you do," Flood said. "You wanted to call it 'cost growth.'"

"I would prefer to call it 'cost growth,'" answered Shillito, "but whatever you call it, we are talking about a situation where we end up with a significantly higher number than we thought it would be initially."

Milwaukee Vets Burn Red Flag

MILWAUKEE (AP) — About 15 veterans, some of them recently returned from Vietnam, marked Veterans Day Tuesday by burning a Viet Cong flag they wrested from members of the Students for a Democratic Society.

"Last year, we were sitting over in Vietnam, hearing reports about flags being burned. I guess we just decided it was our turn to burn a flag," one of the veterans said.

The Viet Cong banner was seized at a booth being operated by SDS members at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Student Union. After a brief scuffle, the veterans took the flag to a lawn, soaked it with a flammable fluid and ignited it.

Fastidious cannibals on the Fiji Islands once ate with forks, the National Geographic says. They believed that eating human flesh with the fingers would make them ill.

Stellwagon Store Closes Its Doors

Stellwagon's Grocery in Garden has closed its doors after being operated for the past 75 years by three generations of Stellwagons.

In the early 1880's, William Stellwagon, originally from Germany and then Wayne, Mich., settled in Garden and built a general store and operated a grist mill, to grind grain for the farmers in the area.

He married and raised a family, later moving to a farm in Fayette and his son Walter Stellwagon operated the store with his wife, the former Charlotte Boudreau. After his death his wife and son, James Stellwagon and his wife, Barbara operated the store and affiliated with the I. G. A. system in 1953.

The old store building burned down and James built the new store in 1955 on the original site, which he operated until the present. Ill health has forced him to retire, closing the store, a century old business.

Bark River

Veteran's Day

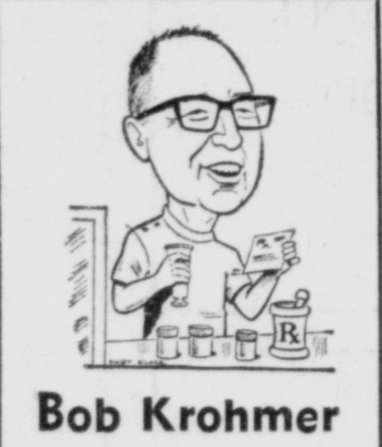

The Rheume-Knauf Post 438 American Legion and Auxiliary conducted a Veteran's Day program at the Bark River-Harris School Tuesday morning, Nov. 11.

The program included: Presentation of Colors; National Anthem by the Bark River-Harris School Band and assembly; Pledge of Allegiance led by the Auxiliary; Invocation, Rev. Vincent Ouellette; Musical selection, band; Selected reading by Legion Auxiliary member; Address by Honorable Dean Shipman, Judge of Delta County District Court; Musical selection and Taps; Benediction, Rev. Charles Beckingham; Retirement of Colors accompanied by the band and dismissal.

A new flag pole has been erected near the Bark River Legion Hall during the past week by the Rheume-Knauf Post 438 American Legion. A flag pole in the park site had been broken by vandals a few weeks ago.

Len Olson and Russell Pirlot of the Bark River - Harris Broncos received honorable mention at the U.P. Sports Writers Association meet held at the Dells Supper Club Saturday afternoon.

Guests at the Oscar Larson home last week were: Mrs. John Naser, Milwaukee; Mrs. Ann Giesen, Norway; Mrs. Larson's brother and wife, the Harvey Ericksons of Lake Geneva, Wis.; and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Larson of Pewaukee, Wis.

One "bonus" you derive from making all your prescription purchases at one pharmacy, is the druggist's accumulated record of the drugs you have been taking over the past few years.

You may not see the advantage of this as long as you're being cared for by one doctor who is familiar with your medical history. If he should forget what you've been taking, his records will also show which medicines he has prescribed for your condition, in the past.

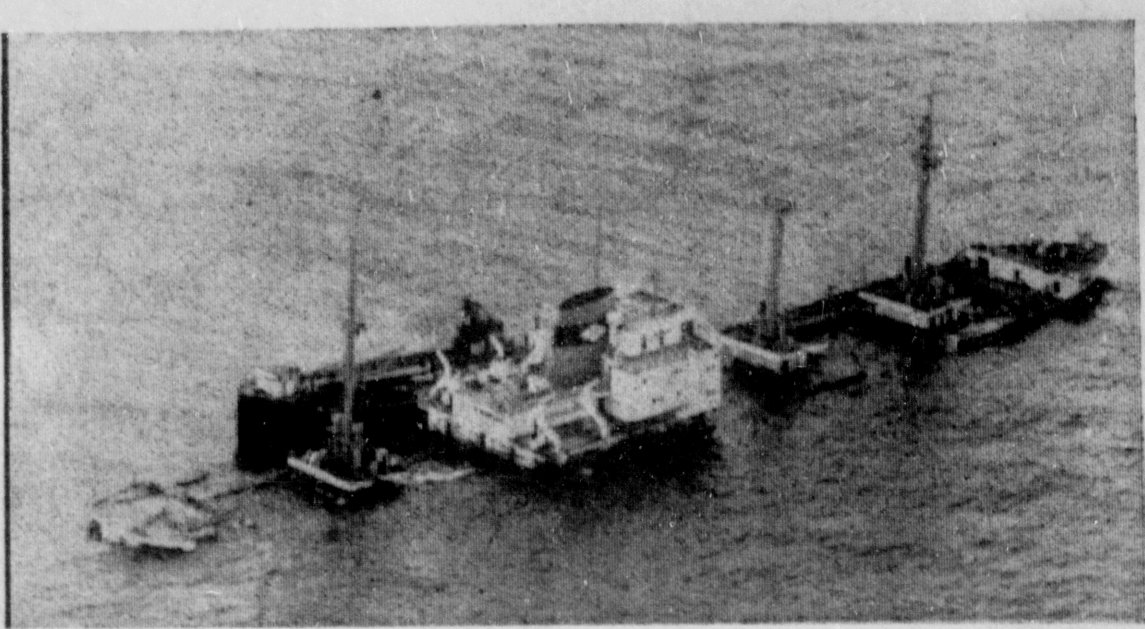

But someday you may have to describe your aches and pains to a strange doctor, who may ask you what you've been taking for the condition. Usually the patient says "a little red and yellow pill about that big," and the doctor has to guess which of several drugs you are describing.

It's much easier — and safer — if he can contact your pharmacist and check the record of your purchases. The druggist can often tell the doctor not only the type of drug, but the dosage and the length of time you have been taking it.

Then the doctor knows what has helped you (or failed to help you) in the past, and can decide whether or not to continue in the same direction, or to prescribe another medication.

This is true in chronic or recurring illnesses, and may be all the more important for the person who is seldom sick, and who hasn't paid much attention to the type of drug given him during an illness he has almost forgotten about.

SOME 21,000 GALLONS OF OIL have been removed from the grounded 471-foot Nordmeer which ran aground off Alpena three years ago. The vessel ran aground on a sand bar in what was termed a navigational error. Winds and ice movement raised the possibility it could break up and pollute the waters in Lake Huron. Officials are considering removing all the cargo. (AP Wirephoto)

Secret State Probe Commission Eyed

LANSING (AP)—A proposal to establish a wide-ranging, highly secret State Investigations Commission, empowered to indict anywhere in the state, has been introduced in the Michigan Senate.

Headed by the attorney general, the proposed commission would be established by constitutional amendment.

Democratic Sens. Coleman Young of Detroit and Roger Craig, Dearborn, recently introduced a resolution that would submit the proposal to voters at next fall's general election if approved by two-thirds vote of both the Michigan House and Senate.

Dr. Augenstein Memos Arrive After Death

LANSING (AP) — Five days after his death, a memo from educator Dr. Leroy Augenstein has appeared on the desks of school district superintendents and board presidents around the state.

The memo calls for local school officials to send to Augenstein their comments and suggestions on Gov. William Milliken's education reform program. In a note accompanying it, his secretary, Clarice McManamey, said Augenstein "prepared this memo to you the day before his death. Because he was so anxious for you to have it, I am taking the liberty of forwarding it to you."

"It's a crucial time for all of us in Michigan," the memo says. "The health of our educational system is at stake, both now and for the future."

Augenstein, who was killed Saturday in the crash of his private plane near Charlotte, said that "while I and many others have advocated piecemeal changes, the governor has taken the bull by the horns and proposed total reform."

Augenstein, who was a State Board of Education member and chairman of the Michigan State University Biophysics Department, warned in the memo that "if the legislative session drags on for much more than another two or three weeks, then probably nothing will happen and we will miss a golden opportunity."

"From talking to many, many groups throughout the state, I know that citizens are now willing and eager for reform," Augenstein said, "but they are impatient and the repercussions will be great if we don't act responsibly to make the needed changes now."

Retailers Optimistic About Christmas Trade

By JOHN CUNNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Are you going to help make this Christmas season a merry one for the retailers? The consumer pollsters say you won't, not necessarily because you don't have the money but because you don't have the spending spirit. That's what the pollsters say, but the retailers have other ideas and already they're beginning to charge up the atmosphere.

Challenge Clear
The challenge this year is clear, for the consumer buying mood has been deteriorating all year. In the third quarter the dip was especially sizable, as the impact of inflation and the fear of recession doubly depressed buyers.

As the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan put it: "A general malaise has developed among consumers."

A malaise is the very thing that marketing men hate. It is precisely the situation that advertising men fear the most because it means that their inspired productions have failed to motivate readers, viewers and listeners.

Customers Important
As any retailer will tell you, this American market place is not so much one of buying as it is of selling, not so much one of waiting for customers as it is of going out and getting them.

Goods, very fine goods, can remain on shelves all year long and never receive a nod from a buyer. But if the retailer promotes the product, perhaps even regardless of its merits, that product can be a real winner.

This requires that a great deal of electricity be sent through the market place. Tension must be created. It must be charged up. Expectancy, hope, desire must be produced. Potential customers must be activated.

Savings Used

But, what do the pollsters say about this creature, the consumer? That in his present frame of mind he is listless and unmotivated. He sees his income eroded by rising prices. And he has already been forced to cut into his savings.

Don't be surprised, therefore, to see Santa Claus make an early appearance this year in an effort to generate a little spark. If the pre-Christmas selling season lacks intensity, merchants might try to make up for it in length.

More suburban shopping centers will remain open on Sundays, although in most cities the Sabbath laws will prevent this. Night sessions might be longer. Promotion of major appliances, some of which have sold poorly this year, will be common.

Credit Available

One factor already is working in favor of the merchants and could upset the pollsters' findings: credit is still available and is freely dispensed. Credit cards are more common than library cards and much more widely used.

This one factor of credit could be the determinant in whether the merchants have the season they are looking for. As any possessor of a credit card knows, the impulse to buy is heightened many times by the availability of buy now, pay later plans.

Father Of Ill Youngster Gets Call From Nixon

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit father said he received a call from President Nixon Wednesday inquiring into the health of his six-year-old son, who has bone cancer.

"He told me that in a few days more, he would call me and let me know when we could come up to the White House," said Herbert Caldwell.

Caldwell took his son, Will Allen, to Lansing Tuesday to meet Gov. William Milliken.

The father said cancer has spread through his son, whose leg was removed in September. Caldwell said doctors told him there was no cure for the cancer.

"We're trying to make every day a Christmas," he said.

He said President Nixon asked if the son could travel. "I answered yes," the father said.

Caldwell said he didn't understand too much of the conversation, because "I was so happy, I couldn't do anything but just cry."

Caldwell is a foreman at an auto plant and also has his own service station.

GM Car Sales Down; 2 Others Report Upswing

DETROIT (AP) — Ten per cent sales boosts by Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. offset losses by General Motors and American Motors as auto sales increased during the first 10 days of this month.

The nation's automakers reported sales of 214,366 cars in the Nov. 1-10 period, a two per cent gain over the 209,306 sold in the comparable period of 1968. There were eight selling days in both years.

The sales pace, however, dropped by six per cent from the Oct. 21-31 rate. In the opening 10 days of this month, the auto firms sold 26,795 cars on each of the eight selling days. In the Oct. 21-31 span, they sold 28,659 autos in each of 11 selling days.

Program Backed By Business Is Official's Aim

DETROIT (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans suggested Wednesday that private business set up an "American Enterprise University" to strengthen and perfect the free enterprise system.

In a speech prepared for the University of Michigan School of Business Administration, Stans said such a university "built, administered and staffed by private industry, would constitute a temple to the system, constructed on its own foundation and evolved into an even better, more perfect system."

It would, he said, "dedicate the free enterprise system to a self-analysis and to the evolution of even greater achievement."

Hijacker Still Awaits Transfer From County Jail

PLATTSBURG, N.Y. (AP) — Six Americans, including Thomas J. Boynton Jr. of Kalamazoo, who returned from Cuba to face airplane hijacking charges early this month still await transfer from Clinton County Jail.

"We're just waiting for the U.S. marshals to come pick them up," a Clinton County deputy sheriff said Wednesday.

The men appeared before a U.S. commissioner Nov. 3 and were to have been taken to the four cities with federal courts nearest to where the hijackings took place. If convicted, they could be sentenced to death.

They had sailed from Cuba Oct. 24 and were taken to the U.S. border at Champlain by Canadian authorities.

Bail of from $100,000 to $200,000 had been set for the accused men. All waived preliminary hearings.

Send Body, Not Me Extradition Of Separatist OK'd

DETROIT (AP) — "They can send my body to North Carolina, but they can't send me," said militant black separatist Robert Williams after learning Wednesday Michigan's Gov. William Milliken will extradite him to face North Carolina kidnap charges.

Klan Feared
Hedging later, Williams left open the possibility of returning alive. "There may be some (North Carolina authorities) to whom I would surrender myself, but I am not going to surrender to the (Ku Klux) Klan."

The 44-year-old black nationalist said with tears in his eyes, "Neither Gov. Milliken, nor Nixon nor God has the power to send me to North Carolina unless I elect to go."

Milliken announced Wednesday he would honor a North Carolina extradition request which would return Williams to face 1961 charges of kidnapping a white couple during racial disorders in his hometown of Monroe, N.C.

Fled Country
Williams fled for more than eight years of exile in Cuba, China and Tanzania to avoid prosecution.

Dressed in a Chinese-styled suit, Williams returned voluntarily Sept. 12 on a special London-Detroit jetliner to assume leadership of the Detroit-based Republic of New Africa which demands five Southern states to set up a black nation.

He and his lawyer were flown by Trans World Airlines as the only paying passengers since it refused to put him on a regular flight.

Out On Bonds
Shortly after his release from federal and state courts in Detroit on $11,000 bond, Williams said, "If Michigan surrenders me, I will move my fight to

Rubin Jailed For Being AWOL

CHICAGO (AP) — Jerry Rubin, one of the defendants in the Chicago riot conspiracy trial, has been jailed for walking out of court while the case was in progress.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman revoked the 30-year-old New Yorker's bail when his absence was noted Wednesday. Rubin surrendered to U.S. marshals later and was placed in the Cook County jail pending an appearance before the judge today.

One of Rubin's lawyers, William M. Kunstler, said he had left court early to catch a plane and meet a speaking engagement at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J.

Rubin did not appear at Rutgers and said later he never left town. He added that he had not intended to show disrespect for the court.

Abbie Hoffman, another defendant in the trial, delivered the Rutgers speech. He had remained in court until Wednesday's session ended.

Rubin and six fellow defendants had been free on bail during the trial of charges that they conspired to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

An eighth defendant, Bobby G. Seale, chairman of the Black Panther party, has been ordered to stand trial separately.

Germfask

Virginia Bowman of Grand Rapids visited at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John Lustila.

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Korench of Engadine are the parents of a son, weighing 8 pounds, 8½ ounces born Oct. 31. The baby has been named Scott Gregory. Mrs. Korench is the former Mary Ellen Wagoner. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Korench of Germfask.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lawrence left Sunday for Escanaba where they boarded a plane to Acapulco, Mexico for a week's vacation. Mr. Lawrence was awarded the trip by his company. Mrs. Clyde (Mae) Hutt of Seney is replacing him as principal of the Germfask Elementary School.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lustila, Sr. traveled to Port Washington, Wis., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Beverly Campbell and children and her husband, Robert, who is in the hospital there.

Mrs. Euphemia Hollbrook returned to her home from the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital at Manistique. Louis Magnusson is a patient at the hospital after being injured in a woods accident.

Mrs. Mabel Faevilly and children of Green Bay, Wis. and Gayle Newborn, who is attending business college are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Newborn.

Viet Cong Hike Ground Assault; 26 Yanks Killed

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched their biggest single ground assault along the demilitarized zone in more than a year and had 108 men killed by superior American firepower, military spokesmen reported today.

Twenty-six Americans were killed, 70 wounded and two helicopters shot down in 17 hours of close combat that lasted from Wednesday afternoon until dawn today. The battle took place six miles southwest of the allied outpost at Con Thien and 3½ miles below the demilitarized zone.

One American company—reportedly outnumbered as much as 3 to 1 when an estimated 500 North Vietnamese soldiers attacked their night bivouac in the predawn hours today—suffered 17 men killed. The company beat off the attack with the help of tanks, armored personnel carriers, artillery and helicopter gunships.

More than 100 miles to the south, in the populous coastal lowlands south of Da Nang, 130 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were reported killed and 58 captured in the heaviest fighting in that region in 2½ months. Allied casualties in eight actions in the area were seven Americans and three South Vietnamese killed and 26 Americans and 13 South Vietnamese wounded.

Another battle, on the edge of the U Minh forest in the Mekong Delta, brought total enemy casualties reported in the past 24 hours to 251 killed and 58 captured.

The allied commands in their weekly casualty summaries reported that the number of Americans killed in action last week totaled 97, a slight increase over the previous week, while South Vietnamese and enemy fatalities were the highest in two months. The summaries listed 476 government troops and 2,476 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed. Another 698 Americans were wounded.

"Enemy activity last week increased by 100 per cent compared to the previous week," said the communique from the Saigon government.

Escanaba Rotary Club To Observe 50th Anniversary

Escanaba Rotary Club will observe its 50th birthday at a dinner party in Escanaba Saturday evening, May 2, a breakfast meeting of past presidents and other officers decided today at the House of Ludington.

The Escanaba Club was founded May 1, 1919 with the Marquette Rotary Club as its sponsor. The Marquette Club and other Rotary Clubs of the area will be asked to participate in the anniversary celebration, said President Tom Straebel of the Escanaba club, which now has a membership of 80.

Suggestion of former President Robert Mosenfelder that the club mark the anniversary with another service project like a Summer Island Science School scholarship, foreign students for a local student or some other such activity was adopted by the planners and Mosenfelder was named head of the committee to plan the anniversary project.

Other chairmen named by Straebel to start planning for the anniversary included Nevin Reynolds and Frank Bourke, banquet; Jean Worth and John Lemmer, speakers; H. H. Dubbele, activities; Alfred Troutt and Warren Morrison, program. The club plans an anniversary fund to finance the celebration, with emphasis toward service to the community, which has benefited for years from the club's sponsorship of Camp Harstad for handicapped children and other such activities.

Past presidents of the club who will be active in the anniversary observance, said Straebel, include John Lemmer and Edward Edick, both former district Rotary governors; Robert Haack, Arthur Moberg, Warren Morrison, Robert Mosenfelder, Leslie Olson, Nevin Reynolds, Clint Dunathan, Dr. Vernon Johnson, Dr. Richard Rinehart, Ralph Kaziatek, John L. Greene, John Anthony, Erling Arntzen and Donald Yost.

In Service

Airman John C. Kallman, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kallman, 312 S. 13th St., Escanaba, recently completed a cooking course at Ft. Lee, Va. Airman Kallman entered the Air Force in June 1969 and completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He graduated from Escanaba Area High School in 1966.

Ask $2,400 Income For Family Of Four

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential panel has recommended setting the minimum income for poor Americans at $2,400 a year for a family of four—$800 a year more than President Nixon has proposed.

The group, named by former President Lyndon B. Johnson, wound up a 22-month study by sending its report to the White House Wednesday.

Poverty Amid Plenty
The sweeping report, entitled "Poverty Amid Plenty" and prepared by the President's Commission on Income Maintenance Programs, recommends abolition of all other federally financed cash payment programs and gradually increasing the minimum income level to $3,500 a year, a total federal cost of $27 billion.

The initial income program would cost $7 billion a year and provide payments to about 36 million persons, commission Chairman Ben W. Heineman said. Heineman is president of Northwest Industries.

Low Dollar Cost
"The relatively low dollar cost of the program recommended should underscore the fact that these proposals are not designed to solve all the nation's social problems," the report said.

The commission said the initial $2,400 level "was not chosen because we feel that it is an adequate income, but because it is a practical program that can be implemented in the near future."

Even so, it added, "half of the income needs of the poor would be met by this program alone."

Basic Difference
Another basic difference between proposals of the commission and the President deals with work requirements. Under the President's family assistance proposal an able-bodied head of household would be required to work or take job training. The commission recommended no such requirement, adding:

"We do not believe that work disincentive effects of the proposed program would be serious. The level of income provided is low, and we do not believe that the poor are anxious to receive less income rather than more."

The 22-member commission, appointed by Johnson in January of 1968 unanimously supported the conclusions in the report, Heineman said.

Unlike the Nixon plan, the commission plan also would provide assistance to single persons.

Pupils Given Demonstration Target Advice

OAK PARK (AP)—Michigan's attorney general has advised high school pupils to make sure their demonstrations are aimed in the right direction. Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley urged the pupils to concentrate on "positive in-fighting."

"What helps more," Kelley asked a group of 150 high school leaders, "a demonstration for demonstration's sake or positive and useful hard work on organization?" He spoke Wednesday night at Oak Park High School.

"If you as students want to change your relationship to school authorities, it can be done by thinking out positive proposals, then backing them with solid evidence," he cited consumer champion Ralph Nader and grape boycott leader Caesar Chavez as examples of men who have worked hard and are getting results.

"You must work quietly in the background for a long time," Kelley said. "Do that, and you will cause change. One thing you must remember, however, with power comes responsibility."

The pupils had gathered for a leadership conference.

Tech Launches $4 Million Drive

HOUGHTON — A $4 million capital campaign for physical expansion and programs for academic excellence has been launched by Michigan Technological University.

Named to head the campaign, which will be conducted nationwide for the next two years, is Clyde E. Weed of New York, former chairman of the board of the Anaconda Co., and an alumnus of Michigan Tech.

The major portion of the campaign funds is for a student development complex, which will include an activities center and ice arena. Other allocations are for faculty enrichment programs and initiative research projects, academic instructional media, a scholarship endowment, library acquisitions and study funds for additional facilities.

"The State of Michigan has made noteworthy investment of funds, yet the dollar needs of the University are greater than public funds can supply," commented Dr. Raymond L. Smith, Michigan Tech president. "Private gifts from alumni and friends will assure the edge of excellence that Michigan Tech owes to its students and the nation."

The Four Million Fund was approved by the Michigan Tech

Development Fund Board and endorsed by the MTU Board of Control. Results of a study indicated that $26 million, currently not funded, are needed if the University is to assure its "edge for excellence." The Development Fund Board determined that $5.8 million will be required to provide the program's immediate and minimal needs.

Michigan Tech students have promoted full participation by approving a quarterly fee, which is expected to produce a leadership gift of $1.8 million as a demonstration of positive student action. It is anticipated that the initial $5.8 million will trigger the balance of the necessary funds from other sources.

Commenting on the urgency of the fund, Weed noted that Michigan Tech places great stress on high academic standards.

"We must continue to stress this emphasis, and at the same time keep our concern for the development of the whole man clearly before us," he said. "It is essential that we prepare our students to take their places in the broad spectrum of life while training them carefully in their particular professions."

Assisting at the gift table were Mrs. Elwood Oman of Escanaba and Mrs. David Campbell of Cornell.

Western Trip

Also included in the Slagstad's anniversary celebration was a motor trip to the west coast. They spent the month of October in California with friends and relatives and visited many points of interest including Disneyland, Marine Land and land of the Redwoods.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Courier (Lee's Studio)

Fred Couriers Mark Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Courier, 828 N. 20th St. celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage, Saturday, Oct. 25 beginning with a Mass of Thanksgiving at 1:30 p. m. at St. Patrick's Church.

The Rev. Charles Carmody officiated at the service assisted by the Rev. Arnold Thompson.

Wedding Attendants

Attending the anniversary couple were Mr. and Mrs. Dona Sauve of Marinette, Wis. Seating the guests were Francis Courier, James Abrahamson and Dennis Starrin.

The Couriers were married Oct. 25, 1919 also at St. Patrick's Church.

Reception

A luncheon was served for family members and guests at the Courier home following the Mass. The reception for 200 guests including a buffet dinner and dance were held during the afternoon and evening at the Eagles Club of Escanaba.

Mrs. Courier received guests attired in a light blue brocade dress with matching shoes and hat. She was presented a yellow rose corsage.

Mrs. Sauve wore a light blue purple dress with complimentary accessories and she pinned a floral corsage in fall shades.

Three Children

Mr. and Mrs. Courier, who have resided in the Escanaba area all their life, are the parents of three children: Francis of Escanaba; Mrs. Rhea Abrahamson of Neenah, Wis. and Mrs. Marilyn Starrin of Fulton, Ill. Another son, Leonard, is deceased. The Couriers also have 15 grandchildren.

Guests attended the festivities from Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and the surrounding area.

Kristine Lee Norby, Arthur Henrich Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Henrich are at home at 2310 Hoard St., Madison, Wis., after their wedding at Lakeview American Lutheran Church on Nov. 1, and a honeymoon in Florida.

The bride is the former Kristine Lee Norby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Norby, of Madison, former Gladstone residents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arthur Henrich, Madison.

Organza Gown

For her wedding the bride wore an organza gown, high-lighted by Venice lace and blue ribbon trim. She wore a lace pillbox to secure her shoulder-length veil and blue and white pompons cascaded in her bouquet.

Aqua Chiffon

Mariene English, Detroit, was maid of honor in an aqua chiffon Venice lace trimmed frock complimented by a matching headpiece and cascade of mums. Miss Kathy Lazar, Marshall; Mrs. Sandy Webb, Payette, and Mary Gail Schram, Escanaba, were bridesmaids. They wore frocks similar to the honor attendants in Mediterranean blue chiffon.

Connie and Joe Schram, were flower girl and ring bearer respectively.

Serving as best man was Duane Pliner, Milwaukee. Groomsmen were Doug Drake and Mike McKeirnan, both of Madison, and Ken Webb, Poyntette, Mike Skolaski and Roger Sarbacker, both of Madison, and Jim McKeirnan, Mount Vernon, seated the guests.

Reception

Two hundred guests attended the reception at the Four Lakes Yacht Club, also the setting for the rehearsal dinner.

Mr. Henrich is employed at Bancroft Dairy in Madison.

Attending the wedding from the Gladstone area were Mr. and Mrs. John Schram, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schram, Mr. and Mrs. William LaCroix, all of Gladstone; Mrs. Herb Sundberg, and Mrs. Michael Pillar, both of Ensign; and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schram, Joseph and Thomas Gregory, Mrs. A. Student Aides Attend Gwinn Library Meet

A group of Gladstone student library aides participated in the fourth annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula student librarians at Gwinn recently.

The morning program included demonstrations of using audiovisual equipment and materials. Students had the opportunity of seeing themselves on closed circuit TV. In the afternoon they listened to author Dorothy Maywood Bird, of Marquette and Lansing, as she told of her experience in writing and publishing her first book, Granite Harbor, a fiction story for young people and set in the Marquette area. A tour of K. I. Sawyer Air Base was conducted by Base personnel which was a highlight of the meeting.

Gladstone students who joined with about 250 student librarians from the peninsula were Norma Lang, Don Gagnon, Kathy Smith, Janet Busineau, Joan Nelson and Pat Bouchard. They were accompanied by Mrs. John Carew of the Public Library Committee and Mrs. Harold Anderson, Gladstone Library Director.

Church Events

Bethel Free Church

The Bethel Free Church will have quartet groups singing at both the 10:45 Morning Worship Service and the 7:39 Evening Gospel Service on Sunday.

The Bethel Free Five will contribute several selections in the morning with Pastor Gerald Brady presenting the morning message. This quartet consists of Paul Smith, Doris Holmstrom, Christine Ott, and Jim Miller. They will be accompanied at the piano by Kristine Erickson.

The Gospel Heirs singing at the evening service is composed of Al Trout, Ted Graim, Verne Slagstad and Ed Berg. Mr. Berg is the director and accompanies this group on the piano. Gene Slagstad will speak at the evening service.

An invitation to the people of the community to attend these services is being extended by the Bethel Free Church.

Sales Of DDT Fall Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — The pesticide DDT has been slipping badly as a commercial product in recent years.

It still brings its producers about $20 million in sales a year, but this is only a drop in the bucket as far as the $1 billion over-all pesticide market is concerned.

Manufacturers of DDT said if its sale is banned—as contemplated in a government announcement Wednesday—there would be very little effect on their earnings.

The National Agricultural Chemicals Association said sales of DDT have declined by 50 per cent in the last five years as criticism of its long-lasting effects mounted. Department of Agriculture figures show DDT sales dropped from 140,785,000 pounds in 1965 to 103,411,000 pounds in 1967, the latest year for which statistics are available.

About two-thirds of current DDT production is exported to developing countries for use in fighting malaria and other diseases.

The Agricultural Chemicals Association said it had no immediate comment on the possible ban but that its stand has been in favor of "proper regulation on a crop-by-crop basis, replacing any pesticide when it could be shown another less persistent pesticide would do as good a job."

The biggest DDT producers include Montrose Chemical Corp. of Newark, N.J.; Diamond Shamrock Corp. of Cleveland, and Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. of New York.

Samuel Rotosen, president of Montrose, said: "If only domestic agricultural users are to be affected, the effect on our company would not be great. Most DDT is exported for public health uses." He said about 75 per cent of Montrose's DDT is exported.

A MESSAGE OF IMPORTANCE TO ALL PEOPLE AT THE REBELLIOUS AGE.

There comes a time in your life when it seems absolutely right to rebel against old ideas. Against all the things that seem to be stacked up against your generation.

Unfortunately, religious faith is one of the things that may get discarded right about now. But should it be?

Your Faith echoes the very feelings you probably have right now. About injustice. Inhumanity. Poverty. Cruelty. Prejudice. Hate.

That's why your Faith is the very thing you should be working with.

It can strengthen you. It can make things happen. In yourself, and in all the world around. But only if you let it. And only if you put it to work.

Nader Pushing For GOP Help In Auto Safety

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Consumer crusader Ralph Nader said Wednesday he expects no more than "cosmetic style changes" from Detroit unless the government takes action in the field of automotive safety.

Nader said 1970 models offered "very little safety improvement over 1969 models."

"We have the federal laws concerning auto safety," Nader said at a news conference before an address at Washington University. "What we need is some additional safety standards."

He criticized "a lack of administration support" concerning the auto safety program.

"We spend less than one-fifth as much on the auto safety program than we spend on atomic submarines," Nader said.

For decades the auto industry has had the ability to provide air pollution control and safety devices, he said and described its failure to do "a form of violence" against the American public.

Nader said he thought the main auto safety improvements that should be made in the 1970s include:

- An automatic restraint system to replace seatbelts and shoulder-harnesses.
- Improved interior safety including an "inner seat-like a shell."
- Protection from side collisions.
- Better control systems, possibly including a sensing system to activate brakes upon impending collision.

Copper Country's Pesky Bear Off To Greener Pasture

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Highway Commission says it has finally found a new home for a pesky black bear which often blocked traffic on U.S. 41 near Copper Harbor.

The department said the bear, which begged handouts, was tranquilized once and removed from the area. But he came back. After being tranquilized again, the bear was taken across rivers and swamps to a wooded area 25 miles away.

He hasn't been seen on the highway since.

THE WOMEN'S CORPS of the Greek police force is a recent innovation. For the first time in Greece's history, the corps numbers 42 women who were recently graduated from a special six month training course. The requirements are simple: the women must be between the ages of 18 and 24, not married and at least five feet tall. Three mini-skirted police women are shown on their regular beat in a central Athens street. (AP Wirephoto via cable from Athens)

Wildcats Put On Scoring Display

If Wednesday night's game at the Escanaba Area High School gymnasium is any indication of things to come, Northern Michigan University should be able to enjoy a rather high scoring basketball season during the 1969-70 campaign.

For the first time in the three intrasquad games the Wildcats have played this year, the White team emerged victorious over the Greens on a long jump shot with two seconds remaining on the clock by George Barber for a 106-104 victory. The game was sponsored by the NMU Delta County Alumni Chapter.

Five players in the game topped the 20-point mark while a total of 11 players hit in double figures. All-American Ted Rose led the way with 29 points for the Green team while teammates Al Inkala of Wakefield and Brian Ouimette of Iron Mountain chipped in with 22 and 20 points respectively. Barber, a sophomore, led the White attack with 25 points and Mike Duehning, another sophomore, helped out with 22.

Also hitting in double figures for the night were Escanaba's Paul Miller with 17 points, Hugh Friday 10, Don Davis 13, Jerry Gerard of L'Anse 10, Rich Cornell 15 and Rick Veneklasen 12.

Glenn Brown, second-year coach of the Wildcats, looked at the coming season very optimistically. He felt that Northern would make a good showing because of the fact that they have so many players that can play without hurting the overall team strength. Brown feels that he has six or seven players who are capable of hitting in double figures and that the team, in general, has good balance.

Brown also pointed out that the team would need Rose if they hope to be a winner. Rose, the second-leading scorer in Northern Michigan University basketball history, has been hampered in the two previous intrasquad games because of a knee operation he had three weeks ago and his defensive play is not up to par. Brown did not know when Rose would be able to play again at full strength.

Miller, the greatest scorer in Escanaba High School history, is also being counted upon by the Wildcat coach. "Miller will play a lot this season. His attitude has really changed and he is working hard. Right now he is listed as the No. 3 guard, but that could change very soon."

Brown feels that Barber is the key to Northern's season. "He has to play," he said. "He is the quarterback out there and is also a very fine shot." Barber put on quite a display of his talents before the Escanaba fans Wednesday night with his fine shooting and tremendous passing.

"I'm happy with the team's progress so far," said Brown. "We need a little bit better defense and our rebounding isn't what it should be with Rose out of action."

Northern will open its season on Dec. 2 when they travel to Milwaukee to take on Marquette University. Their home season opens on Dec. 4 against Michigan Tech. The Wildcats' 1969 schedule includes games against such major powers as Bradley, Missouri, Nebraska, and Pan American, all on the road.

Outdoor Sports

By Bob Gregg

A graduate wildlife biologist, a field editor from Field & Stream magazine, and hunting guides from Texas, Maine, California and Michigan have developed what they said is a tried and proven way to lure big bucks within shooting distance.

How do they do it. Simply by rattling two old antlers together and sometimes hitting them on the ground like a large stag does when he's in a scuffle over a doe.

Sound silly. Not really. During the fall rutting season a whitetail buck's disposition gets to be a strange combination of small boy at play and man at maturity. Antler rattling takes advantage of the small boy attitude in the whitetail male.

Small boys find it hard to avoid looking in on a fight. Bucks have the same problem. and it sometimes gets them in trouble.

Whitetail bucks spend all year getting ready for those weeks of the rutting season, which according to rattling experts is the best time to rub those old antlers together.

According to one wildlife biologist, the rattling season is one of trials and hardship for the buck. While he's ducking hunter's bullets he must also chase does and keep other bucks from stealing his doe.

If a "hot to trot" buck doesn't have a doe, it must try to steal one from a buck that does. Whenever one of these big animals hears a couple of other deer banging heads in the woods, it quickly moves to the scene of the battle and tries to lure the instigator away, the sweet little doe with the innocent look.

The theory says that to get a buck all a hunter has to do is sound like a couple of fighting male whitetails. If you've never heard nor seen two big deer in a scrap, don't feel bad.

Just knock a couple of antlers together and beat the ground with a branch and you'll have the right sound. This method is known to guides as "rattling."

Bucks often begin to rut about mid-November in the area around Delta County, reports Joe Vogt, district game biologist. "The breeding season is usually over by late December, although we've had some reports of breeding through the month of January," Vogt said.

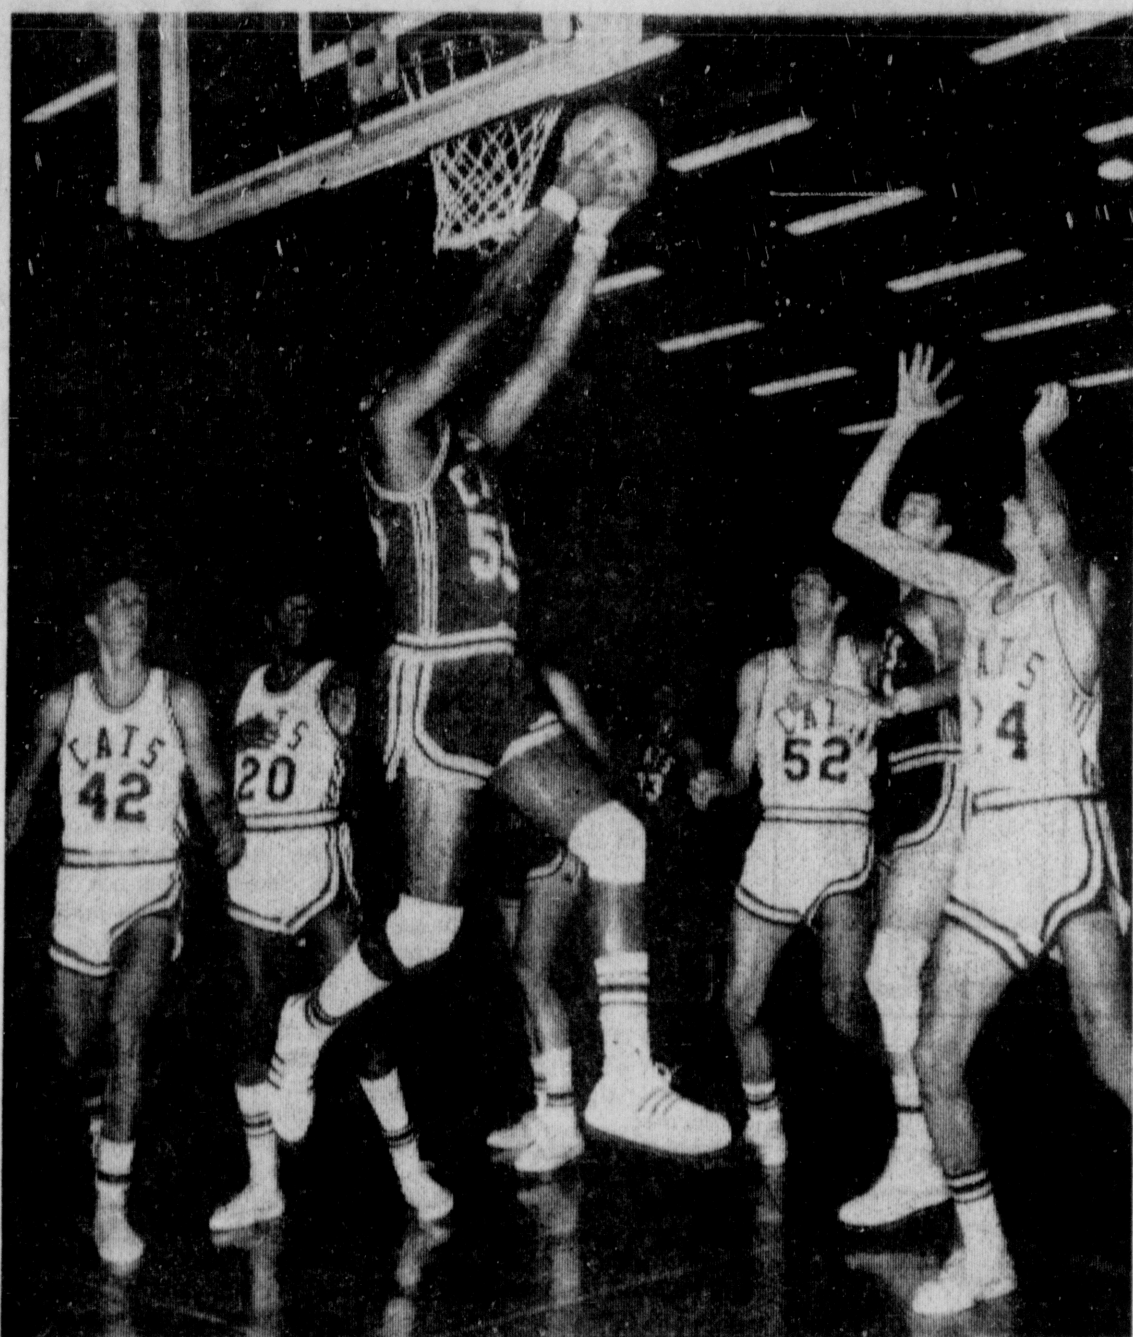

If you try to rattle for deer give a good try in each spot. Rattling experts say a period of 30 minutes is the minimum for drawing a big buck within shooting distance.

The rutting season in Delta County coincides with the fall hunting season which just might make rattling a sure-fire way to get your buck. A wildlife biologist claims that he has witnessed some phenomenal success by guides using rattling to bring unsuspecting bucks into the cross-hairs of their clients guns.

The expert rattler prefers a cold, clear windless day. According to one rattling report I read, when you bring a buck in by rattling don't be afraid to keep banging those antlers together. After all, you don't want him to become disinterested. If all else fails you this hunting season then maybe you should give rattling a try. The only prerequisite are that you pick a good deer area and when rattling you don't make any sudden movements.

It may work, who knows. It has for a lot of hunters who every year come back with big bucks that would make your eyes bug out.

Good luck and straight shooting this fall, and please be sure what you shoot is a deer.

Eskymo Gridders Compile Winning Ten-Year Record

Now that the Sixties are history, as far as Upper Peninsula football is concerned anyway, the Escanaba Eskymos would have to be considered the overall champions of the decade.

Need some proof? According to statistics compiled by Jerry Cvenegros, head football coach at Escanaba High School, the Eskymos have won 68 games, lost 14 and tied for a winning 81 per cent. They have won seven conference championships, including Great Lakes crowns in 1960, 61, 62 and 64 and Great Northern titles in 1966, 67 and 68.

The Eskymos have also won three U. P. championships, 1961, 67 and 68 and had three undefeated seasons in the same years. From 1966 to 1969, Escanaba grid teams ran up an undefeated string of 23 straight games. They have also been ranked in statewide polls in five of the ten years.

Twenty players from Escanaba High School have been on the All-U. P. first team and one standout, Mickey Moses, was elected Back of the Year in 1961 and two linemen, Phil Davidson and Dick Allingham, were named Lineman of the Year in 1960 and 1961 respectively.

Escanaba also had three Coach of the Year selections in the ten year period. Al Sigman getting the award in 1960 and 1961 and Jerry Cvenegros nailing down honors in 1968. In that time, Escanaba has also sent 16 boys to various college football teams.

The Eskymos scored 1821 points over the last ten years, an average of 21.4 per game. They limited their opponents to just 676 points or an average of 7.9 per game. They recorded 27 shutouts in 85 games.

Barnett, Hayes Lead Rockets Over Pistons

By The Associated Press

San Diego guard Jim Barnett exploded for 17 points in the fourth period and Elvin Hayes added 12 as the Rockets broke open a close National Basketball Association game Wednesday night and defeated the Detroit Pistons 132-119.

The victory was San Diego's second straight and only its third in 12 games and moved the Rockets into a sixth-place tie with Seattle in the Western Division. Detroit, 5-8, is sixth in the East.

The Rockets ran away to a 36-20 first-quarter lead and held a 65-53 halftime advantage. But Detroit began pecking away at the San Diego lead after the intermission and, with just over a minute to go in the third period, knotted the game at 84-84.

The lead seasawed the rest of the quarter with San Diego taking an 89-87 advantage into the final period.

Hayes led all scorers with 34 points, backed up by Barnett's 25 and Stu Lantz' 24. Terry Dischinger paced the Pistons attack with 29 while Dave Bing collected 26 and Butch Komives scored 25.

and were held scoreless just five times in the same amount of games. They never had a losing in the 10-year period.

Another interesting statistic is that the Eskymos have defeated arch-rival Menominee nine times in the past decade, including the 1966 forfeiture. Menominee's lone victory came in 1964 by a 12-7 score.

Sigman coached the Escanaba teams of 1960 and 1961, finishing out a fine four-year career with 22 victories, nine defeats and one tie. Cvenegros, Sigman's line coach for three years, was elevated to the head

Buckeyes Top Grid Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Awe-some depth has been the key for Ohio State, the nation's highest-scoring major college football team, and Texas, the runaway ground-gaining leader.

The top-ranked Buckeyes have averaged 47 points per game, with 15 players sharing in the scoring binge. The 1944 Army team, which averaged 56 points per game, is the only one to exceed Ohio State's clip over a full season.

Jim Bertelsen, Texas' top ground-gainer with 515 yards, ranks only 62nd nationally in individual rushing, but the Longhorns' combined ground attack has netted 362.7 yards per game — 31 more than runnerup Dartmouth.

Houston continues to lead in total offense with a rushing-passing average of 520.1 yards per start. But second place Ohio State has closed the Cougars' margin to 1.5 yards per game with a 595-yard outburst against Wisconsin last week.

San Diego State tops the passing figures with a 361.1-yard per-game average and is no. 3 total offense with 496.3 yardser per game.

Cousy, now coach of Cincinnati, went 2-0 against his old team when the fired-up Royals whipped the champion Celtics 116-107 Wednesday night.

The Royals were keyed up because Red Auerbach, general manager of the Celtics, has refused to release Cousy from the Celtics' retired player list without a deal with the Royals.

Oscar Robertson, the Big O, paced Cincinnati with 25 points as the Royals put on dazzling performance of ball handling and hit on 47 per cent of their shots.

After leading at the half 60-51 the Royals drew out to a 21-point lead at 95-74 before the Celtics rallied in the last quarter on the shooting of John Havlicek and Don Chaney.

Don Nelson led with the Celtics with 23 points followed by Havlicek at 22 and Chaney at 21. Fred Foster was second high for the Royals with 17.

Minnesota Slugger Snares MVP Honors

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Harmon Killebrew stretched for a throw into the dirt at first during the 1968 baseball All-Star game in Houston, and collapsed with a ruptured hamstring muscle in his left leg.

The stocky, balding slugger missed half of that season and wound up with only 17 homers and a lowly .210 batting average.

Some persons thought Killebrew would be forced to retire. Even the Minnesota Twins slugger had his doubts.

But today, Killebrew is the American League's Most Valuable Player for 1969.

"Some people didn't think I was going to play at all," Killebrew said Wednesday from his Ontario, Ore., home after he was informed of the award. "I was quite concerned. At the beginning of the season I wasn't quite sure."

However, the worries were premature.

Killebrew played in all of his team's 162 games in what he called one of his best seasons.

He matched his career high of 49 home runs, drove in a career high of 140 runs, drew a career high of 145 walks, scored a career high 106 runs and batted .276. Killebrew gave the West Division champion Twins the game winning hit 22 times.

"I did a lot of work to get in shape during the off season," Killebrew said. "I exercised the leg, did a lot of hunting, walking over the hills. I really think you have to go through a season without too many injuries to have a good year."

What about next year?

"I'm just going to hope I can play like last year," the 33-year-old slugger said. "I want to play as many games as I can and stay away from injuries."

Killebrew received 16 of the 24 first place votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America selection committee, which consisted of two writers from each league city.

Baltimore first baseman John "Boog" Powell, who batted .304, hit 37 homers and knocked in 121 runs, finished second in the voting and got six first place votes. Killebrew had a total of 294 points, Powell 227 and Baltimore's Frank Robinson—the 1966 A.L. winner and 1964 National League MVP—was third at 162.

Frank Howard, Washington power hitter with 48 homers, had 115 points, and Reggie Jackson, who hit 47 homers for Oakland, was fifth with 110 points.

Killebrew became the second Minnesota player to win the award. Zoilo Versalles, now with the Senators, won the MVP in 1965 when the Twins won the pennant.

"This is the greatest honor a ballplayer can achieve in his lifetime," said Twins President Calvin Griffith. "Harmon has certainly been close to the award before. He certainly deserves the award for the year he had. He is just an all-American fellow."

How about a raise for the Minnesota first-third baseman?

"Harmon is going to get a raise, even if he wasn't selected as the Most Valuable."

Rangers Hand Wings First Loss On Road

By The Associated Press

Red Wing goalie Roy Edwards prevented a 4-2 defeat from becoming a rout Wednesday.

While that normally would be at best a backhanded compliment, under the circumstances, it is high praise.

The New York Rangers took 42 shots at Edwards; four of them got past him. The Wings managed only 18 shots—two of them good for third period scores—and the Wings took half of those shots in the last period.

The loss was the first for Detroit on the road this season and it presaged further trouble in their next five away games.

They were sloppy on both offense and defense and seemed to lack punch almost totally. Three of the New York goals were scored while the big Howe line was on the ice. The fourth was scored on a power play. The two Detroit goals, by Pete Stenkowski and Wayne Connelly, came only after the Rangers had taken a 3-0 lead.

The Minnesota North Stars are shopping for a new coach but in the meantime, they aren't doing too badly with the old one.

Wren Blair, who doubles in brass as the National Hockey League club's general manager and coach, has offered the bench job to Bernie Geoffrion, currently assistant general manager of the New York Rangers. And while Geoffrion decides what to do, the North Stars are moving towards the top of the NHL's West Division under Blair.

Jean Paul Parise scored two goals and set up another Wednesday night as the North Stars whipped Philadelphia 4-2, to move within one point of first place St. Louis in the West.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh shut out Toronto 3-0 and Montreal blanked Oakland 5-0.

Parise tied the score at 2-2 in the first period against Philadelphia and then slipped out of the penalty box to set up Claude Larose's go-ahead goal for the North Stars.

Parise got a step on the defense as he left the box after serving his penalty. He slipped the puck to Larose for the goal as Minnesota took the lead. Then Parise scored again in the third period for the North Stars' wrapup goal.

Goalie Les Binkley produced his first shutout of the season as Pittsburgh blanked Toronto and dropped the Maple Leafs deeper in the East Division cellar.

Bryan Hextall set up the Penguins' first goal by defenseman Tracy Pratt and then scored himself. Binkley protected the 2-0 bulge and then got some more insurance when Keith McCreary hit an open net in the final minute after the Leafs pulled their goalie for an extra attacker.

Montreal stretched its unbeaten streak to seven in extending Oakland's winless string to six. The victory enabled the Canadians to maintain their one-point lead over the Rangers in the East Division race.

Claude Provost powered the Montreal attack with a pair of goals while goalie Rogatien Vachon chalked up his first shutout of the season. Jean Beliveau, Yvan Cournoyer and Mickey Redmond produced the other Canadiens' goals.

In the final National League playoff game between the Atlanta Braves and New York Mets, Tommy Agee and Wayne Garrett of the Mets hit home runs on first pitches. Met Ken Boswell hit his homer on a 2-2 pitch.

MANISTIQUE

School District Carrying Deficit; Election Ahead

Three men paid fines and costs for violation of conservation laws this past week. Stephen Goudreau of Gulliver paid a fine of $40 and costs of $60 plus $100 State liquidating damages for illegal possession of venison. Louis G. Noteboom, Rte. 1, paid $10 and costs of $11 plus $5 restitution for illegal kill and possession of small game. Charles C. Prater, Rte. 1, paid $10 and $11 for allowing a minor to hunt unaccompanied by an adult. The minor's license was also confiscated.

Gregory R. Popke, New London, Wis., paid $20 and $80 for reckless driving.

Gerald Thomas, Sault Ste. Marie, was found guilty by a jury of driving with impaired ability and fined $10 and costs of $40.

David Krzyanski of Cooks paid $20 and $20 for being a minor in possession of intoxicants while Arthur Jasmin of Thompson paid $15 and $15 for the same offense.

Paying fines and costs for speeding were the following motorists:

Joseph Columb, Rapid River, $25 and $15; Walter C. Schmude, Jackson; Eleanor H. DeSautel, 812 Arbutus Ave.; Valerie L. Duncan, River Rouge; and Richard C. Oyler, Solon, O., each $15 and $10.

Paying $10 and $8 for speeding were Charles F. Finkbeiner, Leslie; David H. Anderson, Hale; Arnold J. Grambow, 330 Oak St.; Craig J. Stallman, Suttons Bay; Lyle A. Martineau, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; Keith D. Blank, East Lansing; Elmer G. Kaul, Hartland, Wis.; Robert J. Berriman, Detroit; Harry F. Boyle, Detroit; Kenneth M. Olson, Marquette; Richard O. Seglund, Lansing; John W. Merkel, Chelsea; and Lyle D. Park, Sterling Heights.

In other cases:

Jerry J. Perlot, Powers, littering, $25 and $15; Sarah M. Marsh, Munising, no insurance proof, $15 and $10; Basil W. Rath, Toledo, O., speeding bond forfeit, $20; Harold L. Rice, Blaney Park, no operator's license, $10 and $8; Michael Rudnick, Sudbury, Ont., improper passing, $15 and $10; William O. Fowler, Fremont, failure to yield right-of-way, $10 and $8; Donald E. Berry, Germfask, improper parking, $10 and $8; John J. Morin, Ferndale, expired operator's license, $5 and $5; Laurence Neadeu, Rapid River, non-stop, $5 and $5; Harry Blair, Belting, no operator's license, $5 and $3; James H. Sikarskie, Rte. 1, failure to have vehicle under control, $2 and $3.

The news that the Manistique Area Schools are carrying a $46,272 deficit as of Oct. 31 came just before an election resolution for expiring operational millage at Tuesday night's Board of Education meeting.

In a budget report to the board, Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle, pointed out that "approximately $100,000 of additional contract expenditure and $23,000 for blacktopping has been approved since the budget was adopted in August."

A record $1,340,343 budget was adopted last Aug. 12, but did not include negotiated increases for administrators, teachers or auxiliary service employees. Some curtailment of non-academic activities is expected to cut expenses.

A budget revision committee composed of Board President Denton Nelson, Robert Knoph, Leon Wood and William Mueller will make recommendations to the full board.

Election Ahead?

Feb. 13 will probably be the date of a special election with the board requesting a four mill authorization for operational funds on that date. Currently operating on a 16.34 mill local levy, four mills will expire in December. Although no date was set and no definite indication expressed that four mills would be requested, the board approved an election resolution as the first step toward setting up necessary election procedures.

The board approved a $1,350 moving bid, including cost of new foundation, submitted by Andrew Creten of Escanaba for moving the Post House Museum. The Museum is located on property the area schools recently sold. The structure will be moved, sometime within the next week, to the rear of the Chamber of Commerce building—the old Water Tower site. General Sault Electric Co. and the Edison Sault Electric Co. have agreed to cooperate with wiring problems involved in the move. Moving costs will come from an estate bequest of the late Mrs. Jennie Putnam of which $4,000 is left.

Recreational Area

A proposal to develop a recreational area north of the Lakeside School received board approval.

All adults interested in taking the General Educational Development (GED) test for either a high school equivalency certificate or for credit in the Community School are asked to meet next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. Lee Pappas, guidance counselor, will explain the test, which will be given the first week in December, and answer questions.

Anyone who wishes to take the test but cannot attend the meeting should call Mrs. Pappas at the school—341-2195.

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE GOUDREAU

Mrs. Martin Melican of Escanaba and Msgr. F. M. Schermer, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, officiated at a con-celebrated high mass for Mrs. George Goudreau at 10 a. m. Wednesday. Music was by the Children's Choir.

Seney

The Lutheran Aid met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Anderson.

Mrs. Dick St. Martin and daughter, Mrs. Rose Hendrickson returned Monday from Bloomington, Ind., where they visited Mrs. Cheryl Groh.

Mr. and Mrs. Roman Schlaubaugh have purchased the Bert Furst home and are doing some repair work on it.

Seney students on the honor roll at Newberry are Marlin, Phillip and David Miller, Clark Luukkonen, and Candice Carpenter.

Mrs. Nettie Miller is closing her home here and moving into an apartment at the Senior Citizen housing unit at Manistique.

The Lowell Maxons from the Soo spent the weekend at their home here.

The W.S.C.S. met Tuesday evening at the church annex. Plans were made for the church Christmas party on Dec. 16.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Tuesday were David LaRose and James Jacobs.

Discharged were Richard Dalgord, Millard Reno and Myron Boucha.

Patterson, Brillion, Wis.; Miss Janet Norczyk and Miss Winnie Freytag of the Hiawatha Baptist Mission Office Staff, Escanaba; Rev. and Mrs. Foote, St. Ignace; Rev. and Mrs. Bob Trylick, Rice Lake, Wis.

Chamber Picks Six Directors

Six new directors were elected to the Manistique Area Chamber of Commerce in a general membership vote. Ballot tabulation was completed Wednesday afternoon.

Elected were Fred Hahne, president, First National Bank; James Ballas, Sunny Shores Restaurant; Larry Sell MD, Manistique Clinic; Glen Jenks Edison Sault Electric Company; John Pat Miller, assistant manager, People's Store; and Bob Carlson, Manistique Lumber and Coal Company.

The new directors will take office Jan. 1, 1970 on the 15-member board. Four ex-officio members also serve on the board with representation culled from three governmental units—city, state and schools—and the Ministerial Association.

Next meeting of the board will be a Nov. 25 breakfast meeting, according to chamber president Nat Dellis.

Briefly Told

Friday's hot lunch menu at Doyle, Central, Fairview and Hiawatha Schools will include sliced roast beef, whipped potatoes with gravy, pineapple upside down cake and beverage.

John Way of Port Huron was ticketed for no operator's license after his automobile went off the roadway and struck a tree, Michigan State Police report. Way said he ran off the road to avoid a collision with another car on an unnamed county road, Inwood Township, at 4:20 Tuesday afternoon.

Isaac Robere of Garden reported his car was damaged by an unknown motorist while parked in the parking lot of the Garden School Monday night. Damage was to the vehicle's front end.

Trooper's have referred to postal authorities the reported theft of a mail package delivered to Mrs. William Manning, County Rd. 442, Thompson Township. The parcel, valued at $30, was delivered by a rural mail carrier and then disappeared.

The aviation industry is turning out small planes especially designed for spraying or dusting crops. One is a new type of the "obsolete" biplane.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all our relatives, friends and neighbors who helped to make our 50th wedding anniversary so enjoyable. The many cards, gifts and money were much appreciated. Special thanks to our sons and their wives and our daughter and husband and all who served or helped in any way.

In Memoriam

Pelletier

In loving memory of our dear son, Francis Pelletier, who passed away November 13,
1964, five years ago.

Memories are treasures,
No one can steal them.
Death is a heartache,
Nothing can heal.
Some may forget you,
But we shall remember,
No matter how long.
The call was short,
The shock so severe,
To part with one
We loved so dear.

Sadly Missed by Father,

DDT Ban Finalizing Will Take Ten Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Residue from DDT will still show up in the food Americans eat for at least a decade after the pesticide is banned, the government says.

Even if DDT were outlawed tomorrow, "it would take 10 years or longer" to cleanse the nation of effects already caused by the insect killer, Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch said Wednesday.

Finch made the statement in announcing the banning of DDT within two years for all but essential uses.

The recommendation for phasing-out DDT, one of the most common modern pesticides, was made in a report to HEW by a commission headed by Dr. Emil M. Mrak, former chancellor of the University of California at Davis.

DDT — dichloro - diphenyl-trichloro-ethane—was first put to extensive use 30 years ago by the Swiss to kill insects infecting potatoes. Its use quickly spread and DDT became popular during World War II to protect GI's against insect-borne diseases. After the war it became the most popular weapon against insects that infested crops.

While the DDT recommendation was a highlight of the 44-page report, the commission also laid out far-ranging guidelines for improved regulations of other pesticides.

The commission cautioned, however, against going overboard on setting tighter tolerances for pesticide residues now permitted in food, particularly to require them to be completely free of any traces.

The commission cited an amendment to Food and Drug regulations—called the Delaney Clause—which requires the removal from interstate commerce of any food which contains a food additive capable of causing cancer in laboratory animals.

"If the Delaney amendment, as it is now written, were to be strictly enforced for pesticide residues it would convert us to a nation of vegetarians," Finch said.

"Much of our red meat, many dairy products, some eggs, fowl and fish—all parts of basic food groups deemed necessary to a balanced diet—would be outlawed because of very small pesticide residues from the ecological chain."

The heart of the commission report is a recommendation that the government agencies involved with pesticides coordinate efforts to set standards for registration, enforcement and future control.

Lone Tenure

LANSING (AP)—John Gafner, chief of property management in the Michigan Department of Administration, will retire Dec. 20 after 42 years in the capitol. He started as a janitor in 1927.

George Washington, director of the department, said Gafner "deserves and has earned the title of 'Mr. Capitol.'"

SECRETARY OF STATE MOONLIGHTS S—A. Ludlow Kramer, secretary of the state in Washington, is pumping gas and cleaning windshields in Olympia at $2.50 an hour to pay off campaign debts of some $10,000 — he lost out for mayor. The secretary of state post pays $15,000 a year, but Kramer 38, father of four, needs something extra. He plans to moonlight about 50 hours a week.

Lawmaker Asks Double Take On Education Post

LANSING (AP)—Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, says Gov. William Milliken should either leave a vacancy on the State Board of Education or name Dr. Wilbur Cohen of the University of Michigan to fill it.

In an address Wednesday to the Greater Lansing Democratic Business and Professional Association, Montgomery said "perhaps the most fitting tribute which the state could give in memory of the service which Dr. Leroy Augenstein has provided would be to retire his seat on the State Board of Education."

Augenstein was killed early Saturday in the crash of his airplane.

Montgomery said that if the seat is not left vacant, Milliken should name Cohen—dean of the College of Education at the university.

"The appointment of Dr. Cohen, the former secretary of health, education and welfare, would enable Gov. Milliken to demonstrate his sincerity in attempting to move educational reform in a bipartisan direction," Montgomery said.

Milliken, a Republican, said at his Wednesday news conference he would fill the vacancy "soon."

SAC Director

LANSING (AP) — Ward J. Mayrand, assistant to the director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, has been named deputy director of the State Aeronautics Commission.

Mayrand was with the aeronautics commission from 1960-1968, handling public information, before going to the department of commerce.

Mobile Still Found In Peninsula Truck

ST. IGNACE—Anyone who transports an illegal still should have a rear view mirror. That might be the moral of this story.

John McPherson of nearby Moran was stopped by the state patrol recently for failure to have an external rear view mirror on his truck.

The officer said he found a still in the truck plus a quantity of mash and a bottle of clear liquid which looked like moonshine.

"It wasn't exactly a mobile still," said the state patrolman. "But he could have gotten the whole thing going in a matter of minutes."

McPherson was scheduled to appear before a federal magistrate Wednesday on charges of possession of an unregistered still, nontax paid distilled spirits and fermented mash.

The female mayfly lays an average of 4,000 eggs, although some have been known to lay as many as 8,000.

Dairy Award

EAST LANSING (AP)—Everette Scott, former president of Proteins, Inc., Detroit, has been named "Michigan Dairy Manufacturer" of 1969. The award was presented Wednesday at the 29th annual Dairy Manufacturers Conference at Michigan State University.

The award is sponsored by the MSU Department of Food Science.

BLOOD ON THEIR HANDS

The Vietnam Moratorium demonstration on October 15 by the so-called "pacifists" assured us of one thing. Many more Americans will die as a result.

It was a black page in the history of our nation and these marchers have given "comfort and aid" to the enemy as surely as if they had joined hands.

The National shame was compounded by opportunistic politicians who seized this tragic moment to backslide in order to pick up a few more votes.

We don't need "Americans" like these. They've got blood on their hands.

How long will you tolerate such actions by a negative-minded minority?

The spirit of Nationalism needs to be rekindled. What will you do to help?
